HYLO NEWS

HYLO. — Mr. Dick Mohowich went to Edmonton by car on Oct. 31.

Mr. Dick Meardi and Mr. Fred Marchesi took an overnight trip to Edmonton by truck on business.

Mr. John Mashuk visited Hylo and Lac la Biche on business for building material, etc., over the week-end.

Mr. Ed Kucille made a week-long business trip to Edmonton when he took the Monday's freight train and returned on Friday's passenger.

Hawke Drilling Co. Returns

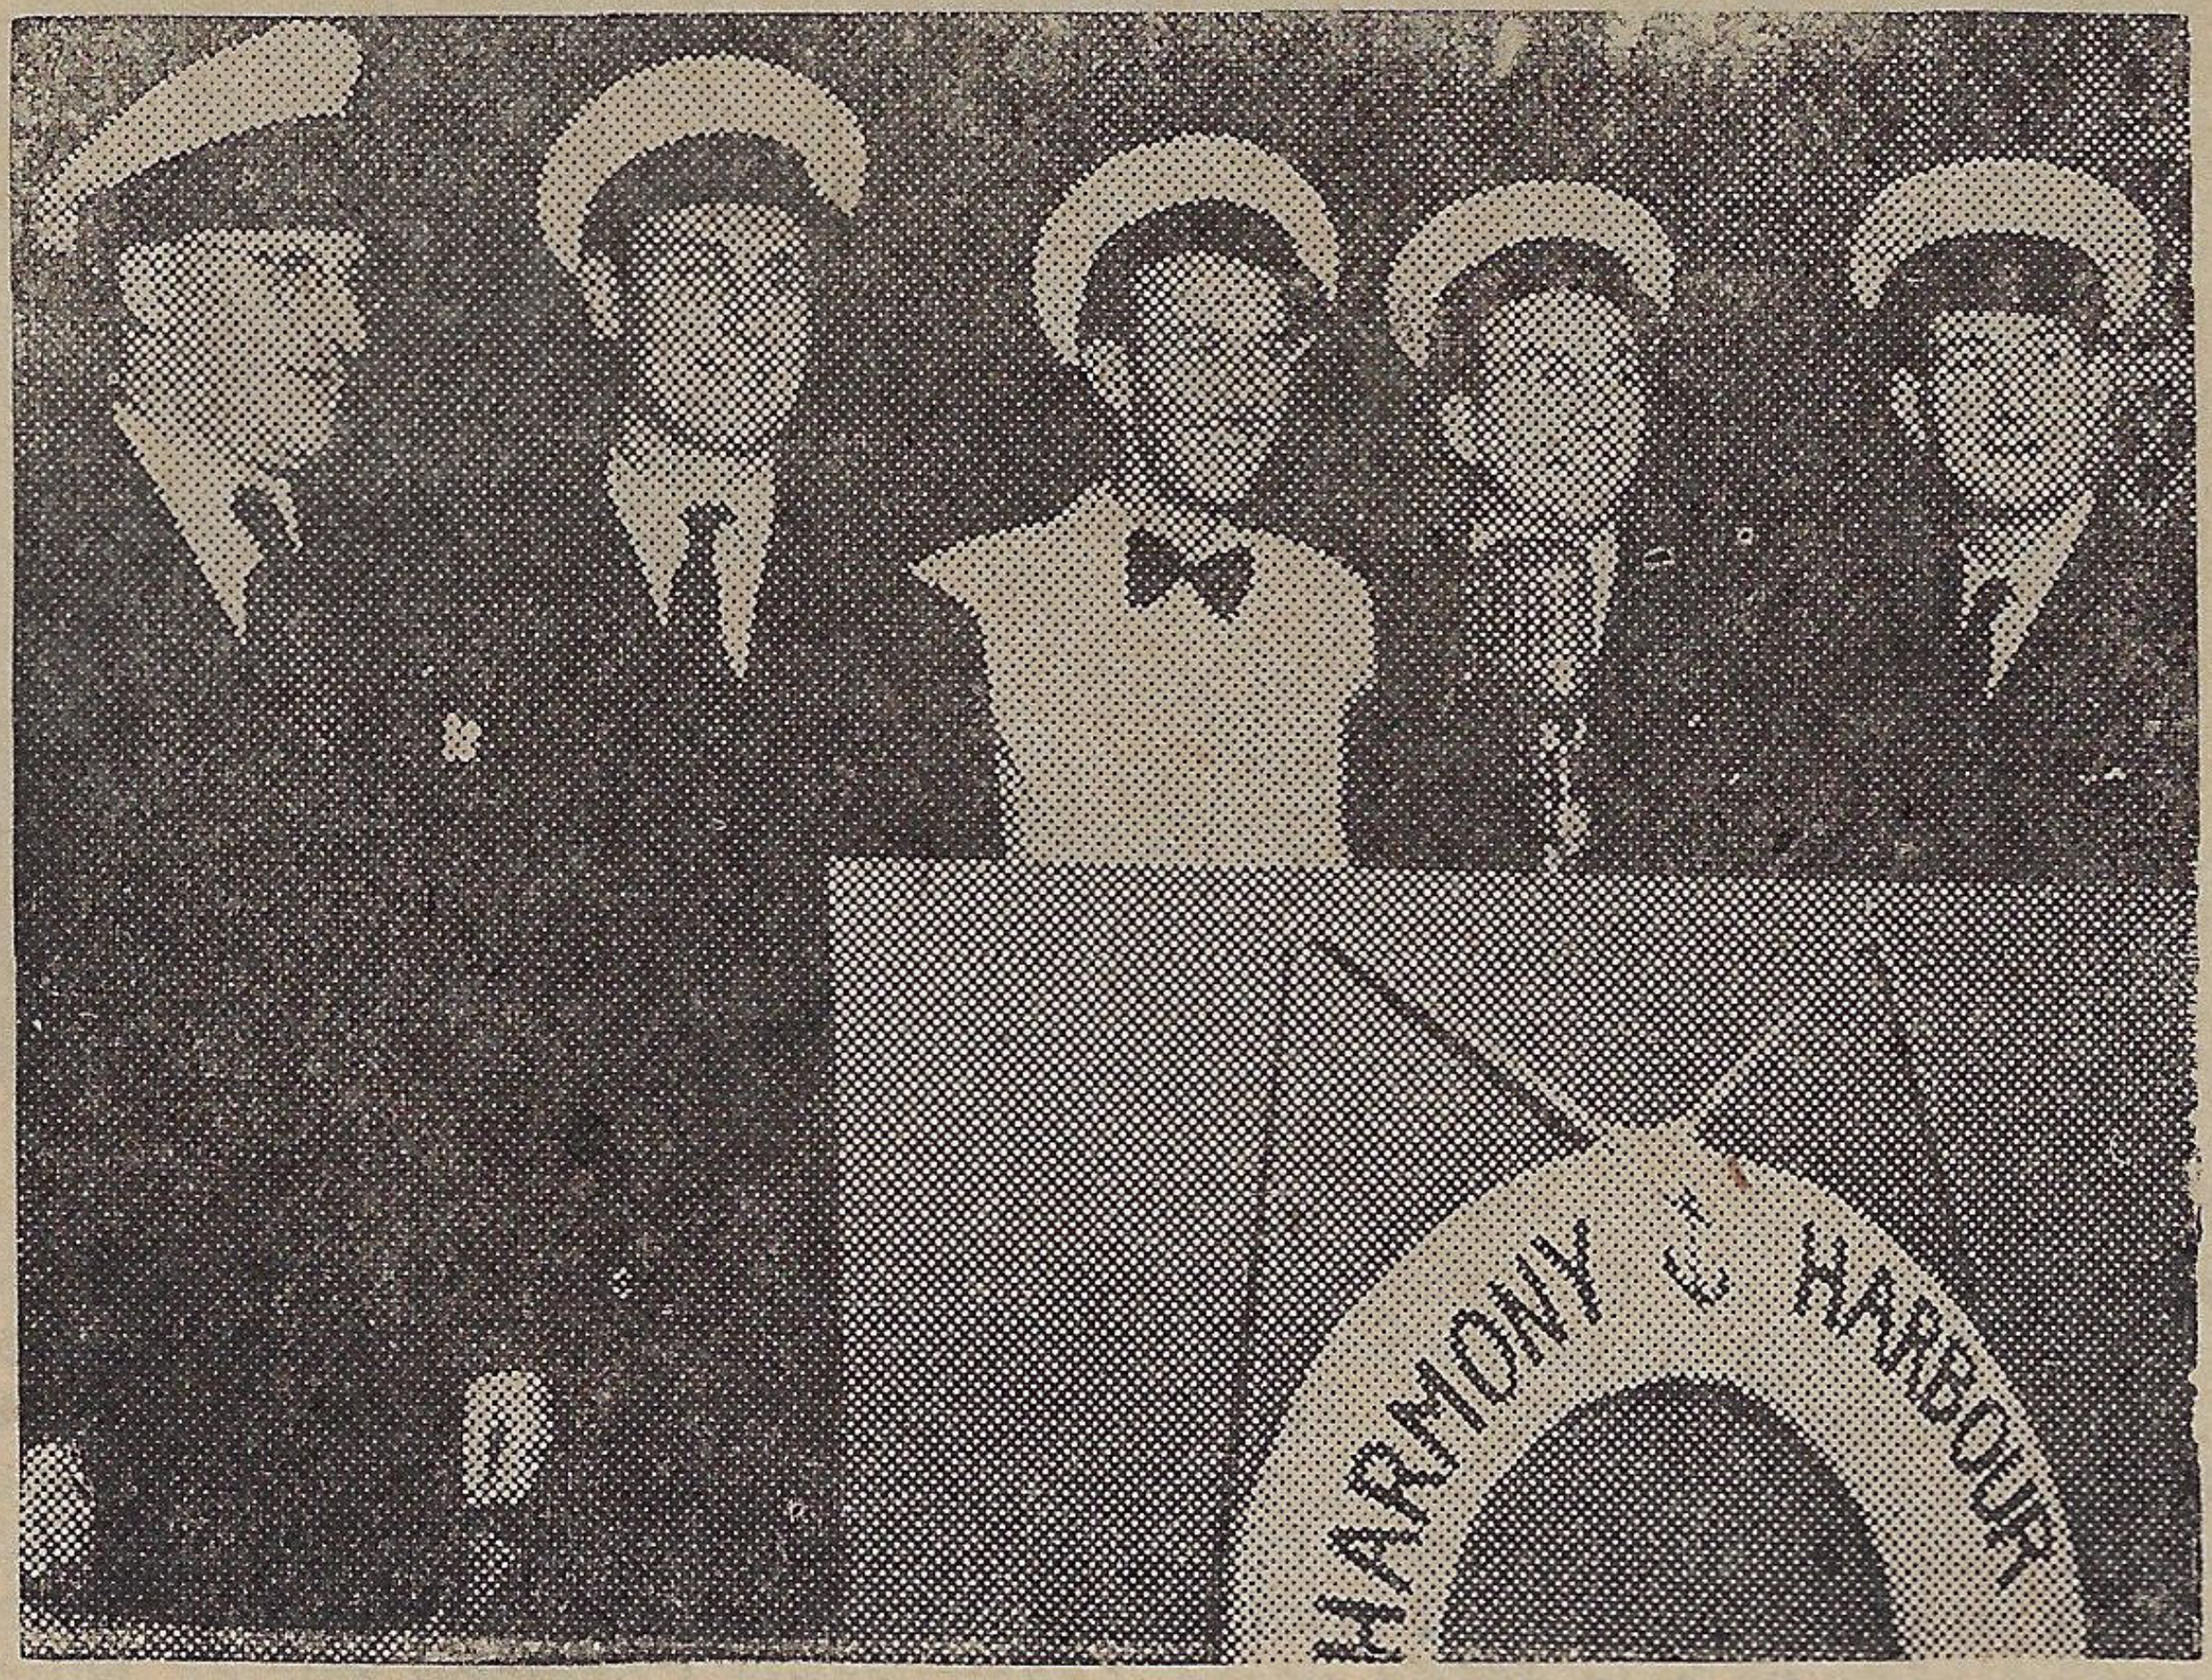
HYLO. — The Hawke Drilling Co. returned to move the outfit, so we are told. The crew returned minus some of the faces we had been used to seeing. Mr. Alex and Mr. Wm. Kuwica are both employed with the company now.

Cottage Gets "New Look"

HYLO. — Mr. Peter Tymchuk, to convenience Mr. W. Lozinski and Mr. B. Meardi with the brick siding they had left from their new homes, used it up on his little house which had been covered with drop-siding.

The improvement is superb. The little house has taken on that little cottage look and it will certainly prove itself degrees warmer in blizzardly winter weather.

JOLLY TARS AND THEIR SKIPPER



When the CBC sets up its microphones in Harmony Harbour every Sunday (CBX, CBK 10:30 a.m.), the Acadian Male Quartet and its captain, above, roll into port with sea chanties varying in sentiment from lively pirate songs to sailors' vesper hymns. Harmony Harbour is a CBC half-hour presentation of songs of the rolling main sung by the quartet, with organ music by Marjorie Payne. Narration with a nautical flavour is written by Frank Doyle, Halifax newspaper man, and read on the air by Syd Kennedy, manager of station CBH, Halifax. The picture was taken at the National Press Conference in Halifax, where one of the Harmony Harbour broadcasts originated. Left to right are sailors Robie Porter, Austin Gough, Syd Kennedy, Raymond Simpson and Carl Ritcey.

LAC LA BICHE NEWS

LAC LA BICHE. — The Herald is pleased to print little notes of interest. We cannot keep tab of all of you, so if you spend the week-end out of town, go to the city, entertain, have your relatives visit you, if you would like to see it in print, bring it in or send it to your local editor. Aid your local paper, in the latest events, as we are very pleased to see that you are enjoying yourself.

Mr. Win Campbell spent a few days in Lac la Biche.

Mr. James Duplessis has been transferred to Whitelaw.

Mr. Scott of Vancouver was here for a short visit en route to Toronto.

Miss Lucille Tatum has just received a new shipment of Lincoln hosiery.

Mr. J. McArthy from Edmonton, visited at the Badry home for a few days.

Dr. Cadzow and daughter visited with Dr. Cadzow's mother in Edmonton.

Miss Beulah Quast has returned to her duties at the weather office after a two weeks' holiday in the States with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Perron have completed stuccoing their house a nice rose pink.

Mrs. Nordquist and children went to Waterways to join Mr. Nordquist where he is employed in the salt plant there.

Mr. John Graterix is down from the north for a visit with his children and relatives.

A most pleasant time was had on Hollowe'en with goblins and ghosts by the dozens. Each room at school had their parties, but somehow it's nice when it's over and done.

The local library is going to be open to the public every Friday night from 7 till 8 o'clock starting Nov. 4. Also every Thursday and Saturday from 2 till 5 o'clock. Join your local library and read all the newest books.

St. Catherine's Hospital News

LAC LA BICHE. — Following are hospital patients during the week:

Phyllis Plamondon, Plamondon; Anita Michetti, Lac la Biche; Dephine Ladouceur; Mrs. Joseph Gauthier, Plamondon, baby girl, Oct. 31; Mrs. Albert Cardinal, Beaher Lake; Mr. Harold Ingram, Lac la Biche; Miss Theresa Gauthier, Charron; Mrs. William Shulko, Lac la Biche; Mr. John Pruneau, Lac la Biche; Ray Warren, Hylo; Jeanne Chevigny, Plamondon; Annette Chevigny, Plamondon; Mrs. John Jackson, Beaher Lake, baby girl, Oct. 27.

BRIEREVILLE NEWS

BRIEREVILLE.—Robert Whitford and family have moved to town for the winter. We do hope it's warmer there than in Briereville.

There will be a dance in the Briereville school house Nov. 4, in aid of Christmas funds for the children.

There was an accident on the highway for three of the boys from around here. The jeep they were riding in skidded off the road and overturned. But lucky for them they never received anything more than a shaking up.

There was quite a rain on Friday and a few flakes of snow on Saturday which did not prevent people from around here going to the sale of Thomas Wayne's at Rich Lake.

On Friday, Oct. 21, there was a farewell for one of the Briereville's residents, Chester Whelen and family. They are going to B.C. for the winter.

Ernest Blais is busy on the construction of a new house. We're all waiting for the dance, Ernie.

James Anderson is also busy building a house so there will be quite a few dances we hope.

BOYLE NEWS

BOYLE.—A by-law made by the Board of the Athabasca Municipal Hospital District No. 13 was given its second reading and forwarded to the Department for approval after which a vote will be taken in the district to ascertain whether the ratepayers will empower the Board to issue debentures for the sum of $110,000 at 4 1-2 per cent interest, 20 year payment, and build a 30-bed hospital in Athabasca in 1950. As part of the district has withdrawn, this would mean a 16 to 18 mill rate for building and administration for the remaining Athabasca Municipal District.

Effective Nov. 1 the residents of Boyle and district will be favored with another bus service, that of Blue Goose Lines from Boyle, Newbrook to Edmonton daily.

Mr. Bencharsky had the misfortune of having his leg amputated.

Miss Hilda Barranoik is back from the hospital.

Miss Pearl Barranoik was at home over the week-end.

Mrs. Ted Wilkins is home visiting the family.

Miss Joan Cordingley is working in McNamara's store.

DONATVILLE NEWS

DONATVILLE. — Miss Pauline Lachonick from Lac la Biche came to visit her relatives in Donatville.

Mr. A. Kochan, Sophie and John went to Edmonton and came back with a new box for their truck.

Mr. R. Gingras bought a second hand Essex car.

Mr. A. Rouchlean and family from Colinton came to live in Donatville with his brother.

Mr. James E. Cholifoux is visiting the home of his sister, Mrs. M. Short.

ELLSCOTT NEWS

ELLESCOTT.—Mr. Rosich and Johnny were in Edmonton on business. They returned Oct. 26.

The death of Bob Spanich brought quite a shock to many residents of Ellscott that knew him. Mr. G. Radmanovich went to the funeral.

The school teacher of East Park, Mrs. McEvony, returned from the teacher's convention last Wednesday. While in Edmonton she visited her daughter.

The new owners of the Ellscott Garage are putting on a roof and other repairs. They hope to take over the work in the garage some time around April.

Betty Boychuck is working in the Boyle Coffee Shop.

The show in Ellscott October 23 brought out quite a crowd and everyone agreed that the show was good. Thanks to the showman for coming over on such a cold day and muddy roads.

A dance was held in the Gamefield school on Thursday, Oct. 27, sponsored by the teacher and school children in aid of the Red Cross. People came from Newbrook, Ellscott, Colinton, Boyle and Athabasca.

Mane Radmonovich, manager of the Ellscott Supply Store, has got his warehouse nearly finished.

BONDISS NEWS

BONDISS. — The Stanbridges have left Bondiss. They have gone up to their saw mill at Margie.

Mrs. Wm. Oswald is having all her teeth extracted.

George Oswald has gone back to Britain.

Some friends from Weasel Creek were visiting the Rudock family on Sunday.

Rudock's have begun to build a porch onto their house.

Ellefsons had their alfalfa combined. They finished just lately.

CASLAN NEWS

CASLAN.—Mr. and Mrs. A. Adaszynski have moved into the house owned by Mrs. Slanko.

Miss Olga Patrick spent a week-end at home here recently.

Mr. Wm. Wolansky is working on an elevator which is being built in Boyle.

Other visitors to Boyle during the past week included Mrs. J. Rosa, Mrs. Cislo, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bury and family, J. Sawka, E. W. Meyer, M. Anderson, A. Gordon and W. Meyer.

Mr. Wm. Cardinal was here over night during the week. He said he was employed on an oil outfit at Redwater.

Mrs. M. Kniazky is planning on bringing her daughter Patricia Mary Ann who was born on Oct. 21, home from Edmonton this week.

School News

BOYLE. — The Boyle school teachers attended the teacher's convention in Edmonton on Oct. 24 and 25.

The junior classes at our school had their Hallowe'en parties last Friday. Ice cream, pop, cookies, cakes, apples, and pumpkin pies.

Miss Mahar is being replaced by Miss Pundyk. Miss Mahar was teacher of grades 4 and 5.

Miss Aston was away for five days last week. She went home to Marwayne.

Nine Musts For Better Tailoring Repairs

By RUTH WHALEY
District Home Economist

Do the suits and overcoats you fix over look home-made or hand tailored? For easier, quicker work with that professional touch, keep these supplies on hand:

1. Thread for buttons. Size 0 three-cord mercerized thread is stronger than thread than is ordinarily used for home sewing. If you can't get an exact match, buy the darker shade. Often black thread looks better on a navy blue suit, because the blue thread works up lighter than it appears on the spool.

If you can't get the buttonhole twist for men's suits, use double sewing thread. Wax it for strength and easy handling. One yard of buttonhole twist will make ten average buttonholes.

2. Beeswax for waxing cord over which buttonholes are worked; reworking worn buttonholes, or waxing thread for sewing on buttons.

3. Buttons from worn out suits and overcoats replace those lost or broken. Matching pants buttons can be cheaply bought at notion counters.

4. Lining material to repair coat linings or to make underarm shields. When you buy dark linings, ask for colorfast material, so the color will not rub off on white shirts. Preshrink lining material before you cut it. If it shrinks after cleaning, the seams will pull out. Get rayon lining that will stand a fairly hot iron.

5. Cotton twill for inside trouser pockets. A 16" length of 30" width material should be sufficient for two side pockets. Cotton material or cotton tape five eights wide, the same color as the trousers, is best for trouser wear guards to protect trouser legs from the rub of shoes.

6. Scraps of matching suit material for future repairs.

7. Pressing supplies. Steam pressing is a must for a good repair job. Colorfast wool is especially good for pressing wool since it absorbs the steam, helps to distribute the moisture evenly, prevents water spotting and does not leave lint on the garment. A cotton cloth should be placed between the wool press cloth and the iron. The chemically treated press cloths are very good, too.

8. Tissue Paper or Brown Wrapping Paper slipped under seams, pocket flaps, or hems when pressing avoid marks showing on the right sides.

9. A magazine or newspaper rolled tightly and covered with flannel and lintless cotton, makes a good substitute for a sleeve roll. Never press wool until it is perfectly dry or it will be hard and lifeless.

Put these on your shopping list so that you will have them on hand when you need them.

For other mending hints write for the free bulletin, "New Ways for Mending," prepared by the Home Economics Branch, Provincial Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Alberta.

Address your request to Miss Ruth Whaley, District Home Economist, 9817 Jasper Avenue, Edmonton, Alta.

Ted Morris' fast-striking Toronto Argonauts, heated up by warm weather that hit Ontario over Thanksgiving week-end, played spectacular football to score a 29-8 win over Hamilton Wildcats before a Thanksgiving Day crowd of 16,500. On Saturday, Scullers defeated Wildcats, 11-10, at Hamilton, making it fourth straight win for Toronto team. Argonauts are now in second place in Big Four line-up, four points ahead of Montreal Alouettes. Above, Casey of Wildcats is seen leaping high to help bring down Argos' Royal Copeland during action-packed scene from Monday's game.

Price Stability Price Reduced For Dow Sodium TCA

A substantial price reduction for Dow Sodium TCA has recently been made, according to R. M. Ferguson, Agricultural Chemical Sales Division of Dow Chemical of Canada, Limited.

The lower price is made possible by increased production and sales. Dow now offers a 90 per cent product for less money per pound than the 70 per cent product previously offered.

Farmers have given wide acceptance to Sodium TCA as a grass killer to be used on couch (quack or twitch) and similar undesirable grasses that overrun crop lands in many areas.

During the past two seasons, Dow agronomists have conducted small-scale tests that indicate TCA will perform more efficiently pound for pound, when combined with tillage. Their suggested treatment is for farm land that the grower would like to rid of grass for a crop the following season.

Promising results were obtained by four methods: by applying the chemical to the soil and discing it in; by using a field cultivator (or quacker) after application of the chemical; by plowing from ten days to two weeks after treatment; or by spraying the land shortly after plowing and harrowing.

Each method increased the efficiency of Sodium TCA, and rates as low as 15 pounds per acre are suggested for experimenters who wish to try combining tillage with chemical treatment.

A Happy Old Age

Now that men and women are living longer it is a logical step for people in middle age to make normal preparations for a happy, healthy old age. Regular medical check-ups will prevent the undetected development of dangerous growths or insidious diseases and expert medical advice will assure a proper balanced diet. The declining years can be happy and healthy. Prepare for them intelligently—the younger the better.

BLUESTONE TREATMENT FOR FENCE POSTS

Bluestone treatment is one of the most simple and effective methods of preserving fence posts. It is particularly valuable when used on poplars or cottonwoods in which it will prolong the life of the posts four or five times their normal life when untreated.

The treatment recommended is as follows:

1. Build a cement or wooden vat three or four feet square and three feet deep (Metal containers cannot be used with bluestone solution).

2. Posts should be prepared for use (pointed or square) and preferably peeled the entire length of the post and the butt or pointed end entirely peeled.

3. Posts should be placed in the vat pointed end down.

4. Enough solution should be in the vat so that when full of posts they will be immersed at least two feet.

5. A saturated solution should be used, that is, a solution which will not disolve any more bluestone. The solution can be kept saturated by hanging a sack containing solid bluestone in the liquid.

Saturation requires from two and a half to three pounds of bluestone per gallon of water.

6. The solution will rise through the wood until it reaches the top of the post. In freshly cut posts this will take from eight to twelve hours. The hotter the day and the greener the post the more rapidly will the treatment progress. Posts cut during the winter or early summer take the treatment most successfully. Those cut later in the year take the solution more slowly and not so thoroughly.

PLAN ACHIEVEMENT DAY, ENTERTAINMENT

At the regular meeting of the SangudoJunior Clubs held on October 22, plans were made for the achievement day to be held on November 3. During the afternoon the potato club members will exhibit eight of the tubers grown from the seed secured from Mr. Bowness of McLeod Valley last spring. The evening program in the Community hall will commence at 8 p.m. Briefly it will be a discussion of the value of testing grain for seed by Mr. Froebel. Description of common bad weeds and effective control measures by the club members. An address by a member of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, staff. Presentation of awards to potato club members by Mr. Campbell. District Agriculturist, Evensburg, who will act as judge. Resume of the junior club trip to Jasper by Joe Schnurer. Moving pictures dealing with soil erosion and weed control.

These activities are not intended for club members only. The public is invited to attend one or both of these programs. On this occasion the junior clubs will be hosts to all who wish to attend. There will be no admission.

The potato club members will raffle five bushels fo potatoes in order to defray the costs of renting the hall and other expenses. Get your ticket now from any club member and win your winter's supply of spuds. Tickets 25c.

Barbara Ann Scott Here Nov. 8-12

Barbara Ann Scott will wear more than $15,000 worth of costumes during the presentation of Skating Sensations of 1950, scheduled for the Edmonton Arena Gardens Novemebr 8 to 12. This is but one feature of the glamorous spectacle that awaits the spectators when this sensational show takes to the ice in Edmonton.

Initial Canadian debut was made at the Amphitheatre in Winnipeg last week and thousands went away thrilled and satisfied that Sensations of 1950 is the finest show they have ever seen. This week Miss Scott and a cast of 50 are performing at Vancouver. Among the performers are 20 of Canada's most beautiful and finest skaters including several from Western Canada. They will perform as a unit and individually in a series of spectacular productions. Besides the Canadian cast, the producers have reached across the line for the world's most famous blade artists. Among them are Melandez and Brandstretter, the famous "house painters"; Johnny Fitzgerald champion stilt skater; and Peggy and Bob White, world's best adagio pair on skates. Canada's top ranking comedian, Dick Nutter, also wows the audience with his "impossible antics."

Mail order for seats to witness this great spectacle are flooding the offices of the Edmonton Gardens, and out-of-towners planning to attend are urged to order their reservations immediately.

Two Projectors Was the Answer

It took a little ingenuity to do it, but Egyptians were shown Canadian agricultural motion pictures with commentaries in their native tongue at a recent exhibition in Cairo.

The problem was this: the Egyptian Ministry of Agriculture had agreed to sponsor a showing of the Canadian films Bluebloods From Canada," "Central Experimental Farm," "Certified For Seed" and "Canadian Wheat Story" at a big industrial and agricultural exhibition in Cairo.

There was a string to it. The commentator must speak in Arabic. Only English - language versions of the films were on hand, so the Films Officer of the United Kingdom Foreign Office arranged for the production of a separate sound track on which the commentary was voiced in Arabic. The use of two projectors, one projecting the visual without sound, the other providing the Arabic commentary without visuals, solved the problem. The screening, though clumsy from the technical viewpoint, was highly successful.

Other Canadian films, some of them on agricultural topics, have been produced in Arabic, as well as English, French, Dutch, Swedish, German, Italian, Spanish and Portuguese.

A Million Diabetics

Today, because of insulin, a million diabetics live in our country and millions more in other parts of the world. The present outlook for diabetics is hopeful . . . diet restrictions are few and occupations only slightly limited. But diabetics should keep in constant touch with their physician and follow his instructions to the letter in order to lead a happy, normal life. Your health is your personal affair. Make sure of your good health today by having a complete medical checkup.

New Quakes Expected

PASADENA, Calif. — Geophysicists at the California Institute of Technology say stresses are accumulating under North America's greatest fault, the San Andreas, and that sooner or later a slip will cause a major earthquake on the Pacific Coast. The San Andreas fault has been inactive since the 1906 San Francisco quake and fire, which was America's last great earthquake.

COLOR VIDEO TO CROSS OCEANS BUT HOW ABOUT OUR DOORSTEP?

When television first was known to be feasible, scientists quickly pointed out that beams were limited by the visible horizon, and thus the great difficult of chain broadcasting except by a tremendous series of relay stations.

Now scientists are talking in terms of intercontinent broadcasts. Not Jules Verne types but sober, practical men like W. K. Zworykin, vice-president and technical consultant for RCA-Victor.

Not only have coaxial cables permitted a video chain to be carried trans-continentally by telephone lines, but aircraft flying the Atlantic may make possible trans-ocean broadcasts. As soon as enough aircraft are flying the Atlantic so that only a few hundred miles separate them, then an uninterrupted television program between continent and continent will be possible, Dr. Zworykin states positively. The aircraft would carry a receiver-transmitter combination which is already in existence, and at the rate trans-Atlantic flying is developing, it should not be long before the first trans-oceanic television broadcast.

Not only that, but all-electronic full-color television is on its way, asserts Dr. Zworykin. Color television was first demonstrated in 1946 and since then steady progress has been made in solving engineering, manufacturing, and broadcasting problems involved.

While television has become fairly commonplace in the United States, all this will seem incredible to those Canadians who have never even seen a black and white video program yet.

The CBC has been making vague passes at getting into the television field and the National Film Board told the Royal Commission on Canadian Culture it was willing to play its part in films for television, but the majority of Canadian broadcasting officials believe it will be five years yet before video comes to Canada except in isolated areas close to the American boundary.

Probably this is just as well, for by that time television should be out of swaddling clothes. The general public will not have to be buying an expensive set wondering in how many days it will be outmoded, and fairly decent chain programs should then be a reality.

From what we have heard it has done to home life in the United States, it is a blessing it is being delayed. If we are to become shut-in subjects of a visible and audible tyrant, if we are to have our entire cultural life molded on what the titians of entertainment in the U.S.A. regard as the intellectual and cultural level of the community, it would be just as well if it were indefinitely delayed—if not relegated to the realm of forgotten things forever.

Possibly in five years time everyone may have a bit more sense. But we doubt it.

IS A CANADIAN HEADED FOR U.S.A. WHITE HOUSE?

A Canadian may yet become president of the United States.

As nearly any school boy knows, one of the qualifications for president is that he be a native born American. Article 2, Section 1, of the American Constitution actually provides that no one but "a natural born citizen of the United States is eligible for the office of president."

Yet no decision has ever been handed down by the Supreme Court eliminating the foreign-born American citizen. Other decisions and a whole body of statutory law, moreover, indicate that a very good brief indeed could be prepared qualifying such a person under the constitutional provision.

Indeed, if a sufficient body of public opinion, with support in Congress and Senate, favored a foreign-born American, there is nothing to prevent the constitution itself to be amended.

And who is this Canadian possible candidate? None other than Franklin D. Roosevelt.

While possibly a "junior" should be added, as his famous father, the late president is dead, he is now F.D.R. And Franklin, Jr., was born at the Roosevelt summer house, Campobello, New Brunswick.

Except for the constitutional provision, another Maritimer might have been the first Canadian president. Franklin K. Lane, a native of Prince Edward Island, around the early years of the century went as high in U.S.A. government circles as possible outside the presidency.

Only his Canadian birth was said to have kept him out of that high office.

And the possibility of another F.D.R. as president is far from remote. Newspapers and magazines in the U.S.A. are already speculating on the prospect following his spectacular victory in being elected a Democratic Congressman in New York in opposition to Tammany Hall.

Nothing prevents an American from becoming prime minister of Canada. American-born Charles Decatur Howe might have achieved it had he been personally willing.

The accident of birth determines many things. But, to Canadians at least, it would be symbolic, rather than ironic, that the next Franklin Delano Roosevelt to occupy the White House is a Canadian.

Dear Editor

MANITOU, MAN AND MANNA

Whatever one may think of Mr. Froebel's views, it must be admitted that they are challenging, and these are times when the gauge should be lifted.

I very much doubt whether Mr. Pue would denounce the theories of either Darwin or Mendel. I rather fancy, that like myself, he would endeavour to give both their proper place and value in the vast field of research which has been covered during the history of man.

The analogy of the partly-filled milk pitcher is inadequate, inasmuch as there is no space left for one of the most important features of human relationships, and that is faith, which pervades all our lives. Faith, whether in man or God, is not a substitute for knowledge, but rather a complement to it.

The implication that truth can only be discovered by scientific means is a reflection on man's power of observation. When Newton observed the fall of the ripe apple to the ground, a truth had been discovered without the aid of science. It only remained to verify the truth by its application in other fields, and establish a theory of gravitation. When it was found that the theory did not exactly apply to all fields, it was necessary to extend the theory to meet the needs of relativity.

It seems to be assumed by Mr. Froebel that the investigations pursued by Charles Darwin caused him to abandon his early religious beliefs. Nothing, of course, could be further from the truth, and deep regret was expressed in his last words, that his younger contemporaroes had misconstrued his statements and published these with the support of his name which he had never contemplated.

It would be aninteresting experiment to place in chronological order, commencing, we'll say, with Abraham, men of deep religious convictions who have been national and international leaders of their time, and then endeavour to place side by side with them, the names of men of pronounced atheism who have exerted a comparable influence in national and international affairs.

I venture to assert that it would be an impossible task. Some of the greatest Greek philosophers declared: "In God we live, and move, and have our being. To the humble follower of Jesus Christ, whether the theory of evolution can be scientifically proven or not, is of small moment. Those who have discovered what Henry Drummond describes as the "Greatest thing in the world passes a knowledge of truth far more profound than any scientific investigator, to which Bertrand Russel could contribute nothin.

I would recommend a study of the works of Emil Brunner or the Gospel of John.

Yours very truly,

FRANK W. WIGGINS,

PROVINCIAL MERRY-GO-ROUND PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

PEOPLE

E. E. Brown, affable proprietor of Gable's Garage, Killam, told me that English cars are rapidly superseding American autos in the low-price range in popularity, and that he could not get enough of them to meet demand. After giving me a look which implied, "you aren't going to believe me anyway," he supplied me with some figures to indicate this fact which did startle me.

In British Columbia, last July total registrations of Austins were 462 and the next largest Ford, 304 and Chevrolet, 302. For the six months total, ending June 30, 1949, Austin's total was 1,214, Ford's 1,191 and Chevrolet's 843. These figures were duplicated all over Canada, Mr. Brown said.

Austin's popularity, therefore, has not depended on devaluation. The English car was making a hit long before.

Martin Bottolfs, Austin dealer at Thorhild, also had the same story to tell. If he could get the cars he could easily move another dozen each month, he said.

PLACES

Comparisons are odious, but I'm in the mood to let the chips fall where they may. Certain settlements impress me with their cooperative spirit and others depress me for the opposite reason.

I've certain favorites among the places I visit and there are certain other places I wouldn't want to be found dead in. At the moment, Sangudo and Lac la Biche are rivals for my affection. Newbrook takes the prize at the opposite end of the poll.

Would it be sheer coincidence that the nicest people I've met are in the places I like the best?

One of the truest sayings among those which have become platitudes is: "No generalization is true, including this one." This remark is occasioned by the fact that I wanted to say garage owners, generally speaking, are among the nicest people I meet. I can think of one in Thorhild and another in Radway who would be embarrassed if they knew what decent guys I think they are.

If they are as nice to me around Christmas as they have been so far I shall get the recklessness which comes with the Yuletide spirit and name them. Better be careful fellows!

THINGS

One of the most priceless possessions for a journalist, and one of the rarest found, is a sense of humor. I have heard a lot of stories about a predecessor of ours in Crossfield, who had it in rare degree. Some day I should like to meet him. One of the local favorities is about a dignified dowager who, on a visit to Calgary, had the misfortune to have an elastic slip as she was coming out of a theatre. With great presence of mind she simply picked up the unsupported part of her raiment which is generally referred to delicately as "unmentionable." The next issue of the paper contained the following item: "Seen coming out of a Calgary theatre, Mrs. Smith, stepping into the blue."

Something which strikes me as very curious is that I find more people read this right hand column —which we have usually filled in as an afterthought (no offence meant to my confrere contributor) than they have to editorials on which considerable thought has been spent (in some cases). Is it because readers expect the brains of the paper to be exposed in editorials and they don't want to read anything which pretends to be intelligent?

Or could it be that we have given to that column more of a personal touch and the things which really interests people is PEOPLE.

For some time I've been considering writing more about people, places and things. Unfortunately, most of the things I hear about people in the places I go are not quite what THEY would like to have published.

Next time I come around—Does anyone know a good story?

NO ROAD EVEN YET

Having spent a few days in Edmonton I am now back again at Fort McMurray but still without a road connecting us to the outside.

While seeking information relative to a highway, I found a reasonable winter road stretches from McMurray to Pelican Rapids, which leaves approximately 45 miles to Wandering River. This means that a short distance such as that is stopping us from having, at least, a winter road.

It would be very nice if our representative in the legislature read this letter and tried to do something about it.

People of McMurray, what is your opinion? If you have one, let us read it in your own paper, The Northlander.

Build The Northlander, build its voice and let's start building a road.

Yours truly,

M. T. DAVIS,
Fort McMurray.

PROGRESS

(From the Edmonton Bulletin)

The whole country can learn a lesson from the town of Morinville.

Somebody, other than the citizens, has been looking after Morinville for the past seven years.

The place was under an administrator because its civic leaders became apathetic.

The happy news today is that the pioneer community, some 25 miles north of Edmonton, is back on its feet, planning major improvements and will soon once again elect its own council.

This is good news for Morinville, but it is also good news, with a moral, for the whole country.

Morinville has climbed out of the rut into which it had slipped.

And Canadians, who are inclined to feel that what they don't see, or know, doesn't hurt them, would do well to look into that rut and see how deeply and easily it can be dug.

What can happen to a town can happen to a country if you let it.

In the meantime, it is good to see aggressiveness is not dead in Morinville, which has weathered economic storms for more than 50 years.

Good Time At Hallowe'en Party

HYLO.—After a delicious lunch of sandwiches, cakes and cookies galore, with hot coffee and cocoa to drink, and a program of music, story, stunts, riddles and games, the students and teachers of all three rooms with all the tiny visitors joining in took themselves down town. In a weaving snake dance they sang their way through practically every business place from back door to front, or vice versa.

A commendable number of the students and teachers wore either a complete costume or at least an unusual garment. The classes returned to the school grounds and encircled Mr. and Mrs. Peter Warren, who were waiting with the van, and ended the gay day with the game of "The Farmer in the Dell."

The Snake Dance was performed in appreciation of the treats the business places generously dealt out for the party.

GRASSLAND NEWS

GRASSLAND.—The whole district was plunged into gloom at the news of the accidental death of little Connie Duniec. The funeral was held on Saturday in the Roman Catholic cemetery at Grassland, Rev. Father Quinn officiating. Attendance at the service was large , with numerous floral offerings.

THE COCKSHUTT SPREADER

Developed specially to meet the needs of the farmer who wants a moderately priced, medium-capacity manure spreader, the Cockshutt is unquestionably the best. Priced at a figure that puts it in the reach of every farmer, this machine gives you many features of superiority, wide even spread, low-down construction, simple powerful drive, positive even feed. The Plamondon Page

The main avenue through Grassland is being widened, all ditches being covered. Work is in charge of Mr. Sadownik, our local councillor.

A power break down Saturday night threatened to disrupt the picture show, but repairs were made just in the rick of time. Now a tractor is running the plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Smeltzne have returned from Lac la Biche where they have been working at a mink ranch all summer. They are proceeding to Athabasca where Mr. Smeltzne has relations.

The new hall is up and the roof is on. In a few days the siding will be on and then only the interior finish will be required. We hope to have it finished before Christmas.

PLAMONDON NEWS

PLAMONDON—Well folks here we are and already it is November. November promises to be a big month around the district. We hear wedding bells will be ringing for two or three of our young couples, and we hope that we will receive all the news of these events so that we in turn can give it to all our readers.

Let me just remind you of one or two important events coming along in November.

First, on the second Tuesday of November at 8 p.m. in the Plamondon Community hall there will be a meeting of all the ladies in this large district. This is to extend to Charron, Blue Jay, Gourin, Atmore, Wandering River, Breyant, Aimsbury and points north, south, east and west, also to River la Biche, and Avenir district.

Every young woman, and all married women are asked to attend. This meeting is to form a woman's branch of the Plamondon Agricultural Club. The centre of the district being Plamondon this is where this first meeting will be held. We think that the men's meeting is also that same night, so ladies and gentlemen let's get together and make our agricultural club one of the largest and most active in northern Alberta.

It's all up to you, and you!

This is the important meeting of the year so get out and tell us what kind of meetings, what kind of speakers you desire to have at your meeting throughout the winter months. Don't forget the date —second Tuesday in November— Nov. 8, at 8 p.m.

Lunches will be served for a very small fee.

Next—just wait and see—On Nov. 22 your John Deere dealer in Plamondon will be pleased to tell you that the John Deere Co. will be having their John Deere farm show day in Plamondon at 2 p.m.

Watch for posters at later date but don't forget to make this a date with your John Deere Co. at Plamondon.

And ladies, I hope that you have not forgotten and that you are all sewing and planning for the anual Parish bazaar to be held here in November.

Let's all get together, young and old, and make this one of the biggest and most enjoyable bazaars ever held in Plamondon. Note the date will be earlier so as to avoid the cold.

Mr. Philip Plamondon paid a business visit to Edmonton.

Mr. R. E. Piquette and Mr. Johnson of the Alberta Seed Growers visited the farmers.

Mrs. Johnson spent the day in Plamondon recently.

Mrs. Hancock and Mrs. Wise of Edmonton spent a couple of days around the district and report a very enjoyable trip.

Mr. Hindle of Great West Distributors was on a business trip here.

A new gas tank has now been installed at Bob's Garage.

Erickson's Repair Shop and Garage will be having their official opening very soon. This was formerly the Plamondon Garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Erickson and family and the boys that work for him are now living in Plamondon.

The Plamondon Garage has been completely renovated, and the old wing in front torn off. With its plate glass show windows etc., we have a building that is an aset to the village.

Watch for advertising of this new repair shop in your local papers.

Mr. Erickson also has his own plane and takes off for the city and points south almost every week-end.

SEE YOUR MASSEY-HARRIS DEALER FIRST!

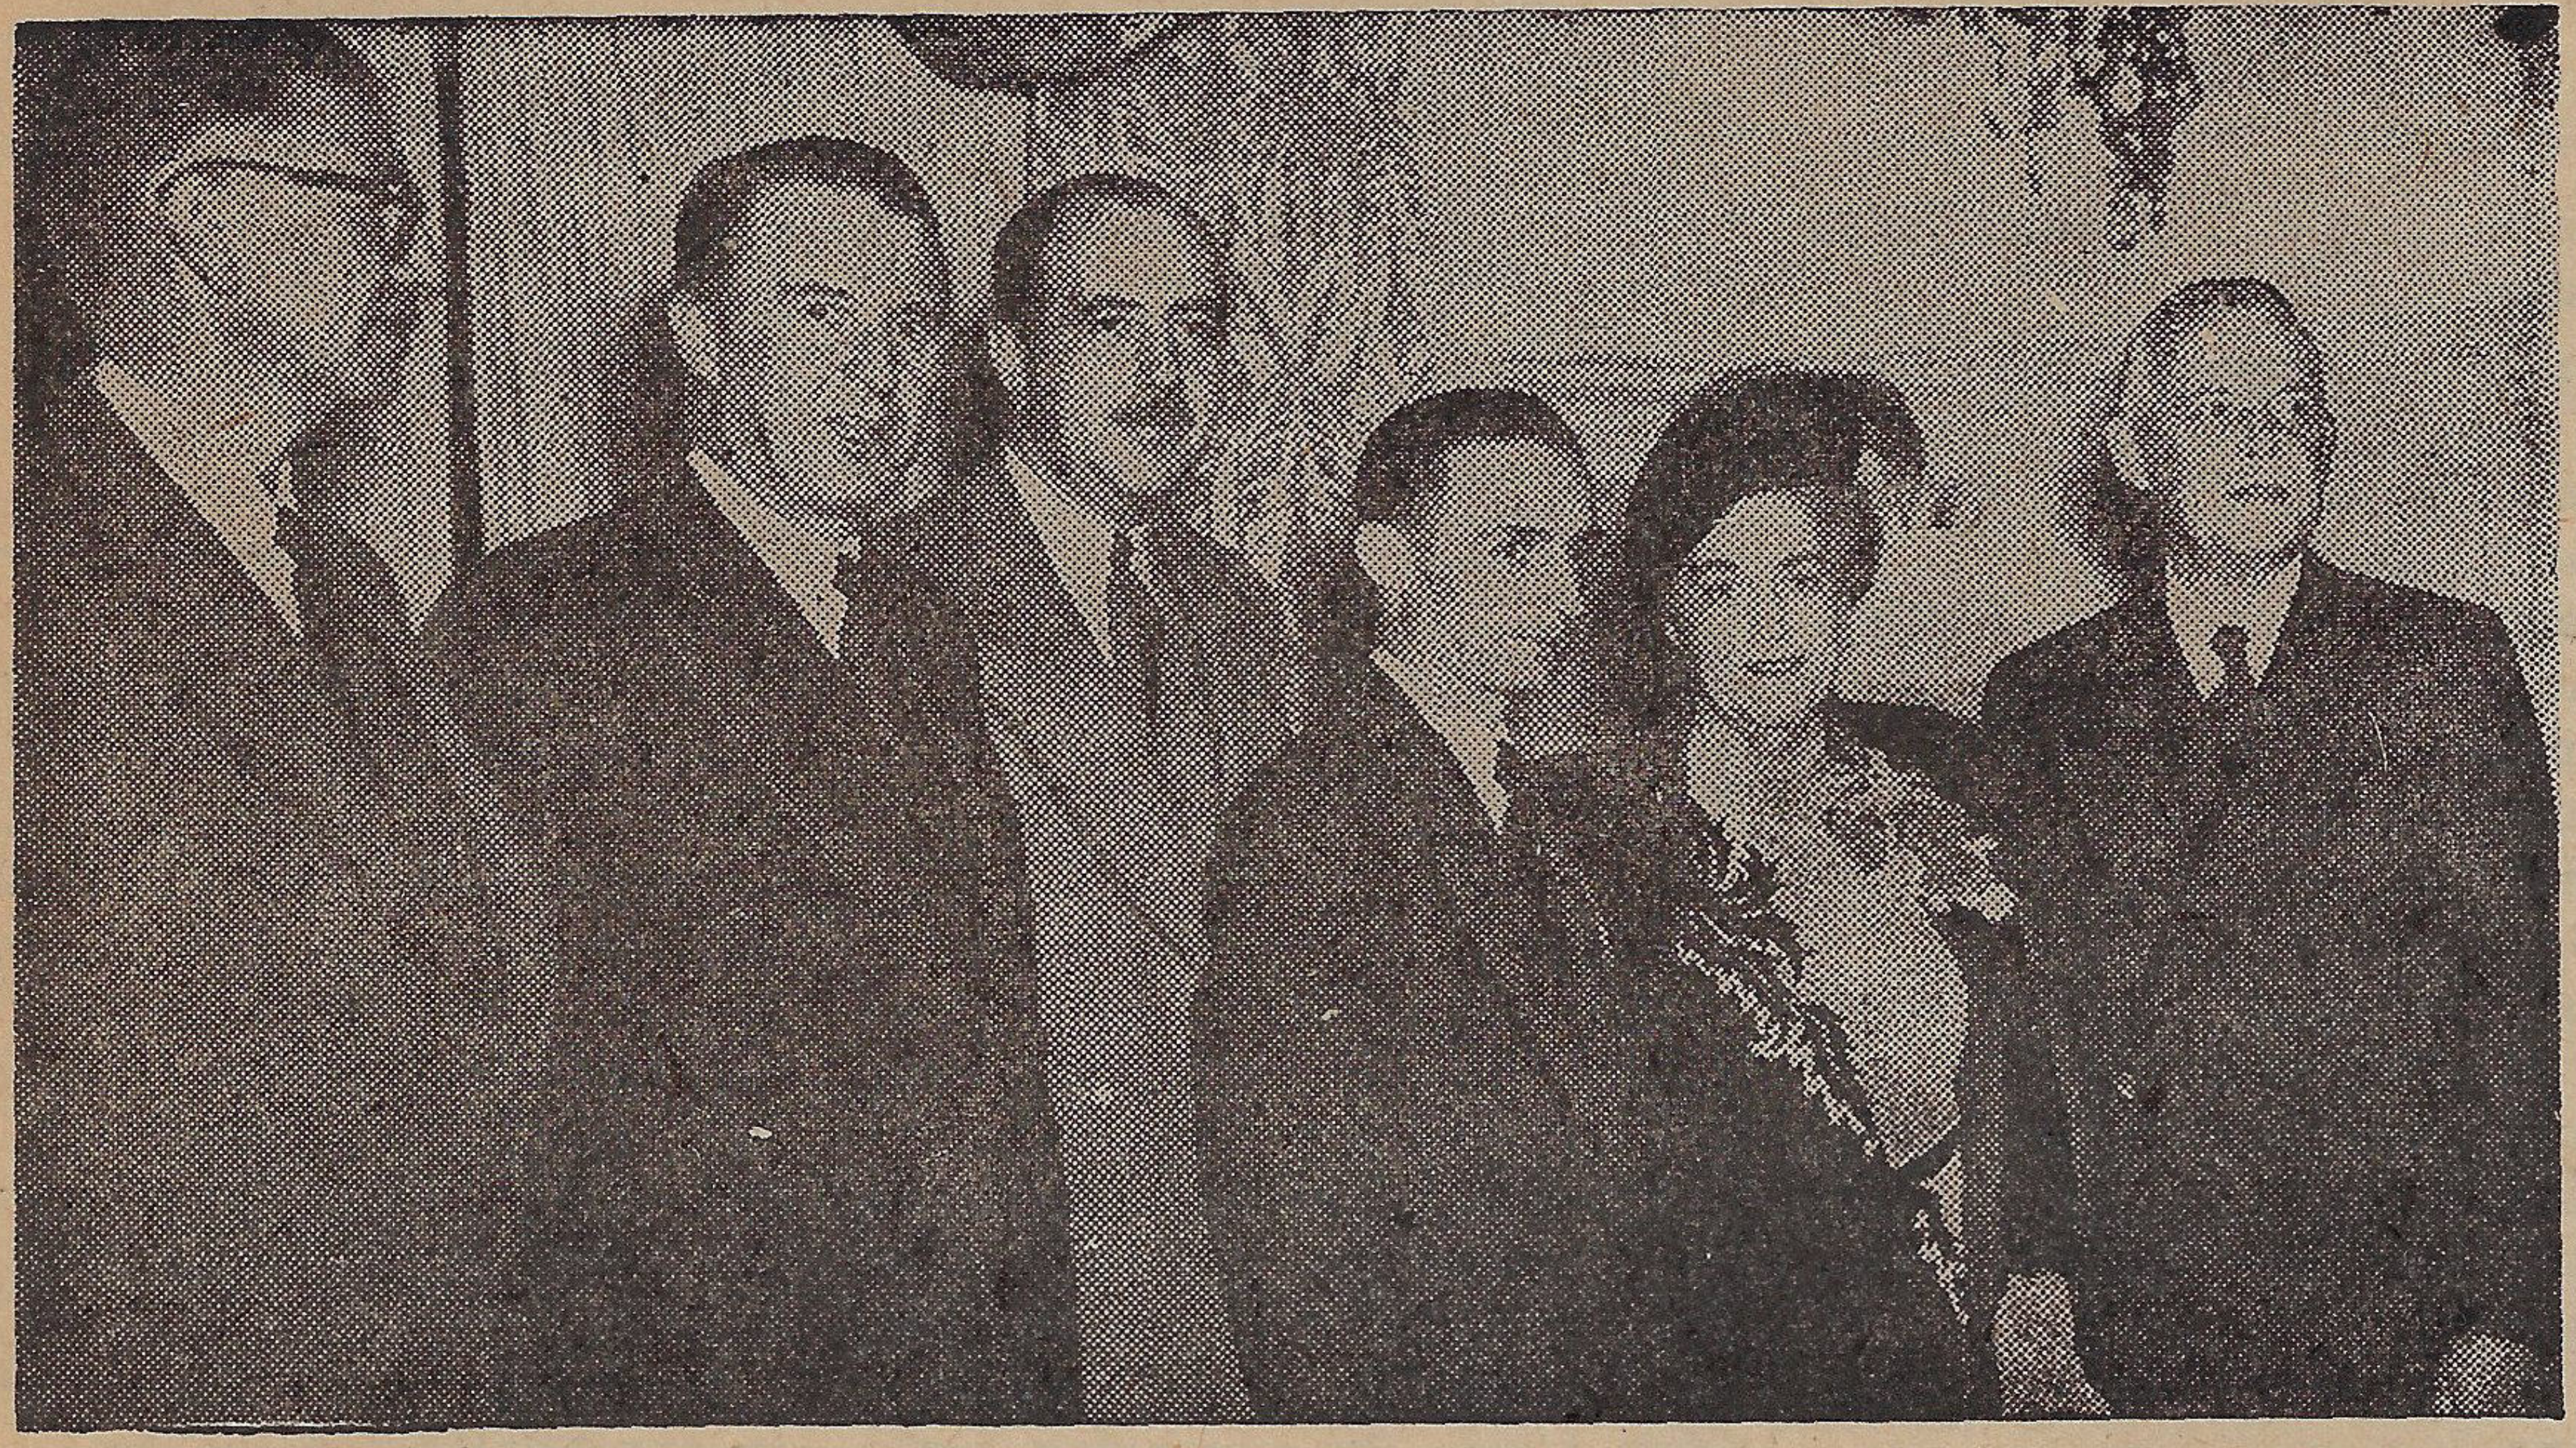
MAINTAINING HIS GROUND



—Central Press Canadian

By winning four out of seven seats in bye-elections Monday, while three others went to Independents who said they would support the government, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurant was believed to have come successfully through his first major test for the Liberal Party at the polls since the overwhelming victory of June 27. The other seat was retained by the Progressive Conservatives. The Prime Minister is shown above, extreme right, with Mrs. St. Laurent by his side. Others, left to right, are Hon. Brooke Claxton, minister of national defence; Hon. Douglas Abbott, finance minister; Solicitor General Hughes Lapointe; and C. A. Danceau, national president of the Young Liberal Association.

Hylo Home and School Meets

HYLO. — For the first time in the 1949-50 term and for the last time before its annual meeting, which is planned for Nov. 24, the Home and School Association of the Hylo district met in the Senior Class Room on Oct. 27. The attendance was only half good enough, however. Business of various types was settled.

Mr. Carl Keehn was given full authority to inquire into types and cost of power units for the school, and to place an order for one immediately.

A whist and bingo drive was planned for the evening of Nov 11 to raise funds towards the school Christmas tree. Mrs. Mike Owchar, Mrs. M. Tychonuk, Miss H. Sloboden and Mrs. B. Meardi were appointed on the lunch committee for the evening. Mr. D. Meardi, Mr. S. Grandish, Mr. Ed Simbalist and Mr. C. Keehn were appointed to take care of the whist and the bingo games.

We are all looking forward to an enjoyable evening of cards, bingo and eats.

NORAL NEWS

NORAL.—Mr. Wm. Kovaluk purchased a 1949 Ford and made a trip to his brother's in Bellis where he and his wife enjoyed a wedding of his nephew.

The boys and girls sure enjoyed themselves on Hallowe'en.

Mrs. Wm. Skoreyko is in Edmonton having some dental work done.

Mr. Alex Gordey is in Edmonton where he will change his glasses.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Grove are back in Noral and will leave for Smoky Lake for a holiday.

Mr. Alex Holosh is having a well dug by Alf Raymonds.

There was a church service and Miss Olga Rispler took her first communion. After the service there was a movie and lots of people attended.

Mr. Bergdahl is visiting his Noral friends for a couple of days.

Mr. Ben Rosnau from Bruderheim visited Mr. Fred Woychuk of Noral. Mr. Rosnau and Mr. Woychuk are old fishermen.

Mr. George Skoreyko had his sister and her husband from Smoky Lake visiting him.

Gus Juknies has purchased a new Case tractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward of Waskatenau are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Henson.

School Boy Undergoes Operation

HYLO. — Raymond Warren, a Junior High student of Hylo underwent an operation for tonsils and adenoids last week, after being continually bothered with an ear ache. However, upon his return to class on Monday, Hallowe'en Day, he reported that after nine days his ear ache is nearly as severe as ever.

WASKATENAU NEWS

WASKATENAU. — Don't forget the Skaro Carnival Oct. 28-29, or the one at Garden Park on Nov. 20 and 21. They are being put on by the Greek Catholic Churches at these places and deserve the support.

John Decore M. Pagain spoke on "Report from Parliament Hill." His address was very informative on old age pensions.

Nice to see local boys getting jobs from local businessmen. Bob Kulchyski is driving truck for the B.A. Oil.

The government must have decided to put new gravel on our highway. An outfit from Sundre went through this week with a rock crusher, gravel trucks and trailers to a pit east of here.

The ferry is to suspend operations and will be taken out of the water.

With all the good radio programs on the air now a few people having motors should see that condensers are installed to prevent interference from that source.

The school children need your support for their concert on November 4.

Nick Zon has purchased a new Monarch sedan.

"You'd be in a hurry, too," said his companion, "if your tail was on fire."

WARSPITE NEWS

Mr. Wynyk, of Warspite, had a very narrow escape when his pony tractor was involved in an accident one mile east of Warspite. Mr. Wynyk was just coming on to the highway from a side road and apparently he thought that his pony had the right-of-way, anyway the in-coming truck hit the pony squarely and sheared it in half. Mr. Wynyk was thrown to the ground and lucky for him escaped with only minor injuries.

The Wheat Pool is building a garage for Geo. Achtymichuk and George states that there will be lots of room for his car, with some room to spare for all those surplus ducks that George has been getting.

Mr. Bruce Olson has been getting quite a few geese and by the looks of Bruce he has been missing a lot of sleep. It seems that to hunt the Canadian goose one has to be up quite early.

The lake north of Warspite has froze over and some of the local boys have been practising skating, and getting in shape for the coming hockey season.

Alexandra Osinchuk has developed good leg muscles what with all these running exercises. It seems that a week ago Mr. Osinchuk and Kost Stalrchuk had a running race, and Alexandra won by a wide margin.

Paul Feniąk and Paul Dowhanik like to get a fireman's job together. It seems the two work well together. They have sent in their application, and it should be but a few days before they should get their call.

Mr. Geo. Palamerek is getting all the preparations for his coming wedding which is taking place at Warspite hall on the 5th of November.

Bob Sinclair is sure enjoying himself now, what with the Pontiac in running shape, and a private chauffeur to boot.

Annual Meeting Coming Soon

WASKATENAU — It will soon be the time when the village council and the school board will put out notices of an annual meeting. In the past these meetings have been dismal failures as far as attendance is concerned and it has been left for a few to carry on the arduous duties connected with the village affairs and the school. At best it is a thankless job and the criticism levelled at them in most cases is unjustified if people who do the criticising were acquainted with the facts that makes their decisions necessary to conduct the affairs of the village and school.

The officials would much rather have these criticisms brought up at their annual meeting where they have the necessary information to hand, to answer these criticisms. So that leaves it up to the ratepayers to attend these annual meetings and take an interest in their village and school affairs.

Varsity Homecoming To Attract Hundreds

Tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday the University of Alberta will be observing the annual homecoming week-end.

It is expected that hundreds of graduates over the past 40 years will be in attendance. During that time nearly 13,000 persons have been awarded degrees and diplomas, including 1,500 to persons who reside in Edmonton.

The program is as follows:

After registration Friday noon, Alumni will be taken on a tour of the buildings by undergraduates.

Friday night, a student-alumni dance will be held in the Drill Hall, music by Freddie Slack and his name band from Hollywood.

Special displays by various faculties will be used for decorations at the dance and a cup will be presented to the winning faculty.

There will be continued registration and campus tours Saturday morning.

OWN PARTIES

During Saturday afternoon, a general coffee party will be held in Athabasca residence from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Varsity publications will hold their own party for former staff members of The Gateway and the Evergreen and Gold yearbook in Athabasca residence.

University Mixed Chorus will hold its own gathering, too, and the former members will form a chorus alumni association in St. Joseph's college.

Saturday evening, beginning at 7:30, fraternities on the South Side will hold open house for the graduates.

Beginning at 8:30 p.m., a colorful cabaret-style dance will be held in Athabasca hall for graduates, members of the Golden Key society and executive members of the Students' union.

Sunday morning a special church service will be held in Convocation hall. Mixed chorus members will attend to sing anthems and Rev. E. H. Birdsall will conduct the service.

Bill Eddy to Fight Benny Geary Nov. 18

Bill Eddy, promising young scrapper out of Detroit who caused no little amount of consternation in local fistic circles when he refused to meet Benny Geary in a scheduled 10-round go at the Sales Pavilion several weeks ago, is going to fight the local colored boy after all.

Promoter Jack Berry, has announced that Eddy has consented to fight Geary here on November 18th, provided Benny trims down to 145 pounds.

Eddy is currently fighting in the Pacific Northwest and has recorded a number of victories during the past month.

He refused to fight Benny at the last minute when Geary weighed in at 147 pounds. "He was too heavy for me to tackle so I refused. If he'll drop a few pounds I'll meet him, I guess I have to in order to square myself with the boxing officials and Edmonton's boxing enthusiasts," said Eddy.

Jack Berry promises to feature an all-star card in hopes of reviving boxing interest locally.

Flyers or Nowhere Says Morey Rimstad

Morey Rimstad, popular pivot with Frank Currie's Edmonton Flyers during the past two seasons, will not line up with Saskatoon Quakers this year.

Morey, who centered the line of Johnny Black and Billy Maher when the Flyers won the Allan cup, says he will not play hockey at the Hub city.

"It's Edmonton or no place for me," says Rimstad.

A partner in a local insurance agency with Jerry Searight, Morey says the pressure of business is too great to allow him to venture to the Saskatchewan city.

"I've just about hit the end of my playing days," said Morey. "That's why I declined to accept the offer to play with the Flyers this season and accepted the coaching position."

Morey is at present coaching the Edmonton Athletic Club's entry in the local junior circuit.

"It gets a little tougher each year and I might as well quit playing when still able to carry my weight," he said.

Asked if he would play again for the Flyers if they needed him, Morey replied: "Sure I'd be pleased to help out if I could, but I hardly think Frank will have to call on me. He has a fine club this year and they should do well."

Wouldn't you like to perform another season with Black and Maher? Rinstad was asked.

"Johnny and Billy are as fine a pair of linemates as anyone could wish for. I would like to play with them anytime, but as I told you I've had it as far as playing is concerned."

How do you figure Billy Maher will do with the Quakers? he was asked.

"Don't be a bit surprised if Billy enjoys a fine season. He is plenty fast and capable of producing his share of goals. Maybe the change will do him a lot of good."

What about Black—will he go to Saskatoon? was the next question.

"I guess he's the one that should be asked that question," he replied. "Personally I think Johnny would be a welcome addition to the Quakers and should he line up with them, he too will do all right."

What club do you predict will take the league title this season? Rinstad was then asked.

"That's hard to say. They all seem to be fairly evenly balanced this year and it should be a close battle down to the play-offs. All clubs are a little stronger and the way Saskatoon has come to life, they might even surprise. I won't make any predictions, other than it will be a close race and anybody's title."

As a farewell query Morey was asked about the chances of his junior club, and he replied: "We have a fine lot of boys and ye'll make it tough for all comers. It's a little early to say how we'll fare but we'll give them a battle every time out."

Board of Trade Meeting

SANGUDO — The Board of Trade held their regular monthly meeting on Monday night, October 24th.

A report from the Department of Public Works to the effect that the gravel pit from which gravel was to be obtained for gravelling part of the highway and streets in town was insufficient.

A resolution was put through to advertise for a doctor.

Discussion on a twenty-four hour telephone service was dealt with. It was decided to canvass present subscribers to determine whether or not there was sufficient demand for this service. It will mean a raise in the monthly rental of $1.00 for business phones and 50 cents for private phones.

A resolution was also passed re taking phone service as far north as Mystery Lake.

Race for Right To Pipe Natural Gas Gets Underway

The race for the right to pipe Alberta's natural gas to Vancouver and cities in the Pacific northwest of the United States is well underway. Already the Canadian Senate has approved the incorporation of three companies. They are:

(1) The Alberta Natural Gas Company, which plans a pipeline originating in southwestern Alberta, running for a short distance into British Columbia then cutting south to serve Spokane, then continuing west and cutting north to terminate in Vancouver.

(2) The Westcoast Transmission Company, which plans to gather gas from areas north of Edmonton, serve the Peace River country, then cut into British Columbia to serve Prince George before fanning out to serve central British Columbia and the west coast ctities.

(3) The Prairie Pipeline Company which plans a route similar to that favored by the Alberta Natural Gas Company. It is possible that more companies may enter the race before it is through.

Cost of the pipeline has been estimated between $100,000,000 and $125,000,000, and it is estimated that it will carry approximately 100,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas annually—more than double the present consumption of all Alberta users. Although three companies are racing for the lush prize of the westcoast markets experts claim that these markets will only support one pipeline.

Incorporation of the companies still leaves them with many obstacles to hurdle before they can start to lay pipe.

Biggest hurdle of all is the fact that following the special session of the Alberta legislature called last summer Premier Manning announced that at that time present known reserves in Alberta were not sufficient to permit exportation without jeapordizing the position of Alberta consumers. However, final decision as to whether gas will be made available for export will be made by the cabinet, acting on the advice of the Conservation Board. It has been reported that more than two trillion cubic feet have been added to the province's reserves since last summer and two of the companies, Northwest and Alberta, have already got their applications before the Conservation Board for the right to purchase gas for export.

Second hurdle is that the companies must have their routes approved by the Board of Transport Commissioners which has been given jurisdiction over interprovincial and international pipelines. Then of course permission of American authorities to enter the United States must be obtained and, of course, before the finances necessary can be obtained it will be necessary for the operating company to obtain the necessary public utility authority to supply the areas they hope to serve.

In their application to the Senate Prairie Pipelines claimed that their company would be Canadian controlled, although it is reported that they will have to depend on American capital for most of their financing, as will the other two.

The other two companies report that they have already carried out surveys and have alternate routes to offer to the Board of Transport Commissioners—and to the Alberta Cabinet, whose announced policy is that Canadian consumers must receive priority. This stipulation may complicate the problem still further, because Canadian markets in themselves are reportedly too small to carry the expensive transmission systems necessary to serve them unless the American markets can be secured too. American authorities are reported to insist that a guarantee of an unterrupted 25-year supply of natural gas must be made before they will grant any franchises.

So, although the race is well underway—there is still a lot of ground to be covered—and pipe to be laid—before it will be possible to pick a winner.

New Exchange Rates And Canadian Trade

MONTREAL. — "The broad distribution of Canada's exports and imports" in relation to the new rates of exchange undergoes analysis in the Bank of Montreal's latest Business Review issued recently.

For this purpose, the B. of M. divides the countries trading with Canada into two categories. In the first, it places the United States and those nations which have retained to date their former parity with the U.S. dollar. In these countries, the Canadian dollar has now become nine per cent cheaper than before September 20.

"Broadly speaking," the bank says, "this should stimulate Canadian export trade to this group, while conversely the currencies concerned and our imports expressed therein have become 10 per cent dearer in Canada.

"In the second category are the United Kingdom and virtually all of the remaining countries with which Canada trades. Here, completely reverse influences are at work, since in these markets the Canadian dollar is now dearer by as much as 30½ per cent with a resultant deterrent effect on Canadian exports and a stimulus to our imports from the countries concerned."

HARD-CURRENCY AREA CONTINUOUS TO DOMINATE CANADIAN TRADE

The review finds that, in the first eight months of this year, 58 per cent of Canada's total merchandise export trade, and 79 per cent of her merchandise import transactions were with the first group of countries.

"Moreoever," it emphasizes, "in the months preceding devaluation, Canada was able to increase the value of her exports to the U.S.A. despite the fact that our southern neighbor was experiencing a recession in business and was importing less in aggregate from all sources.

"On the other hand, a more than commensurate increase in Canadian merchandise imports from the United States widened our adverse balance of trade with that country. The devaluation of the Canadian dollar, to the extent that it is translated into price changes and thereby influences demand in each country, will work to reverse this trend in the trade balance.

"But, in practice, the exchange differential is not reflected in reduced U.S. prices of all Canadian shipments across the border and, even where it is, there is no assurance that an already high U.S. demand will automatically increase in proportion."

DEVALUATION INCREASES DIFFICULTIES IN SELLING TO SOFT-CURRENCY AREAS

Canada's trade with the United Kingdom and other soft-currency countries, in the first eight months of this year, was already showing the effect of their efforts to limit dollar buying and to increase shipments to North America, the B. of M. reports. Both these tendencies should be accentuated by the new currency values.

"Nevertheless," the bank stresses, "it must be remembered that as far as the immediate future is concerned a considerable proportion of Britain's taking from Canada are contractual, while from a long-run standpoint Canada offers definite attractions to the United Kingdom as a dependable and friendly source of supply.

"With regard to the British export drive, realism compels the view that, at the new currency values, a substantial increase in the United Kingdom's Canadian dollar earnings cannot be expected to materialize overnight. Nevertheless, it can be said that the United Kingdom's efforts to expand markets in this country are being generally met here with sympathy, co-operation and understanding."

Council Meeting

SANGUDO — The village council met on Tuesday, October 18. Decision on the four appeals which were held over by the Court of Revision were to the effect that the assessment would stand.

World in Review

London — Britain may never build another battleship. Functions of this type of ship today are convoy duty, task force with aircraft carriers and shore bombarbment in support of landing operations. Barring unforeseen developments, the battleship in battle line formation is a thing of the past and naval thinking today is that its expense does not justify construction for other types of duties which may be carried out just as effectually by other instruments of warfare.

Luxembourg—Devaluation and European economic conditions are hitting hard blows at Luxembourg's steel industry and threatening her position as seventh largest world producer.

Montevido, Uruguay — Britain is reported to be very disappointed in the Anglo-Argentine trade pact. Edgar J. Joint, new commercial minister, said in an address here that England "was distressed that very important parts of the agreement have not been carried out."

Washington — U.S.A. imports from North American countries rose from $176,100,000 in July to $189,300,000 in August, according to the Census Bureau. Most important change was an increase in imports from Canada from $105,500,000 to $117,400,000.

London—Britain's big nut plan is going a bit sour. Experts of the government-sponsored food corporation, which three years ago launched a scheme to produce 600,000 tons of nuts annually from African wasteland, has been unable to find the answer to the way soil in Tanganyika becomes baked as hard as a tennis court. It makes it very difficult to get the nuts out of the ground.

Ottawa — Canada has changed its policy for Eskimo schools to make it a centre of the communities. Now there will be permanent schools in even the small communities.

Washington—Many reports are being received in official Washington that the Comiform Army may start a guerrilla campaign in Yugoslavia before the year is out.

London—Britain intends to supplement its meat ration with home-grown reindeer. Lapland is sending a Christmas present of a herd of 25 which will be settled in the Hebrides for the purpose.

Buenos Aires — Production of Argentine cotton is tending to become static because of shortage of labor. Farmers are finding increasing difficulty in competing for supplies.

Washington — Use of negro policemen in Southern States of the U.S.A. is continuing to grow, according to figures recently released.

The Hague — Target date for the Netherlands to transfer soverignty to the United States of Indonesia has been set between December 15th and 20th.

Boston — Lord Alfred Webb-Johnson, president of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, said in a speech here that he thought Britain had made a mistake in trying to launch a complete program of socialized medicine at one time.

London — "Pep teams" to tour foundries have been appointed by English foundry employers. They will tour factories trying to determine deficiencies and to recommend measures to bring the industry to the highest industrial standards and performance.

New York — Rand McNally has issued its first new and complete atlas since the war — the war being World War the first. It has been eight years in preparation.

London—British Museum translators are joining with scholars in New York and Jerusalem in examining eight frail parchments which are believed to be part of the Biblical text at least 1,000 years older than any previously known to be in existance. The eight leather scrolls were accidentally found by a goat-hearder in a cave near the Dead Sea, Palestine, and scholars already confirm their authenticity.

Students Express Birthday Greetings

HYLO. — At the school Hallowe'en party all the students expressed their birthday greetings to Miss Donnie Grandinetti, whose mother so recently passed away, with the singing of "Happy Birthday To You" as two classmates, Miss Marjorie Tychonuk and Miss Sylvia Sawchuk who baked a brithday cake, brought it in all lit up with 16 candles.

Donnie was surprised and thrilled that even three breaths would not extinguish the candles. A brief speech was later made by Donnie, extending thanks to all for such a spirit of thoughtfulness.

BLUE JAY NEWS

(Too Late for Last Week)

BLUE JAY.—Hello folks. Now don't ask why there wasn't any word about Blue Jay in the last week's edition—and by the way, in case you haven't noticed, winter appears to be just around the corner. These snow flurries and cold winds, I'm sure, are evidence good enough for anybody. (I wasn't really trying to change the subject).

The population of Blue Jay has been increased temporarily at least, by the arrival of the Rhien & Mocheson Brush Cutting Outfit.

Miss Olga Shyan has finally decided to stop wandering and is working at Mr. Mike Ilnicki's.

Miss Inga Stoky has been visiting with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Moraz.

Miss Ann Blonsky and Miss Rose Ilnicki spent an extended week-end at home.

Mr. O. Strand is trying to beat Old Man Winter by finishing his carpenter job at Mr. Mike Ilnicki's.

Mr. Joe Gassic and Mr. Anton Luchka, both with combines, are busily combining the hay seed in this district.

CHARRON NEWS

CHARRON. — Today we see Lawrence St. Jean busy erecting a house directly across from the Charron Store. His brother Edmond is helping.

Mr. Sandy Karpetz is building a garage.

Haluschak & Horne contractors, are working with their caterpillar for the Western Geophysical Co. at Charron and are boarding at Mr. S. Karpetz. Their crew consists of Tony Horne, Pete Haluschok, Bob Haley, Marshall Mitchell, Walter Saegart, Willie Kostiuk.

Mr. Abraham St. Jean traded in his old tractor for a new one.

Mr. Mike Karpetz was helping Sandy Karpetz for a few days.

Mr. John Zayonc made a business trip to the city.

Mrs. Draper visited at the home of Mrs. John Genoud. Mr. Louis Ilnicki was hired to drive her back to Plamondon in the evening, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Genoud.

Miss Pricinia Klimiuk will be leaving for Edmonton some time in January to take up a hair dressing course.

Mr. Sorocan held a supper at the home of Mr. Louis Ilnicki to advertise his waterless kettles. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. John Zayono, Mr. and Mrs. S. Karpetz, Mrs. Greygus, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rebkovich.

A delicious meal was prepared in very short order, the menu consisting of beef roast, potatoes, carrots, onions and cabbage. For dessert there was pudding with a lemon sauce and coffee.

BLUE JAY NEWS

BLUE JAY.—Ho hum, life gets dull, doesn't it. Before I forget again I wish to express my humble apologies to Miss Pricinia Klimuik, our young socialite, for neglecting to include a very important happening in my last subscription of news to the Lac la Biche Herald. This negligence of my duty has brought me no length of sorrow and—oh my, forgetting again. The news item that was omitted was our said socialite's acceptance of a position as cook some weeks ago with Mr. Sandy Karpetz of Charron, Alta. We also hear that she is planning on learning the post mistress trade there.

Mr. Mike Klimuik made a trip to Edmonton with his car last week.

Mr. John Mandrick held a public auction sale on his farm last Saturday, Nov. 5. We hear that he is moving to some part of Ontario very soon.

The Blue Jay school pupils under the able supervision of Miss Ann Zuk, held their annual Hallowe'en party on Friday, Oct. 28.

The last threshing outfit to do so, that of Mr. Paul Karpetz, has completed operations in this district. The whole crew held a party at the home of Mr. Karpetz to celebrate the event.

The brush on the road going south of the Blue Jay store, has been cut by the Rhien & Mathcheson brush cutting outfit. It is said this road will soon be graded and ditches made.

Our glamorous boy and ladies' men was still in the Lac la Biche hospital at the time of writing.

Theatre Goers Make Capacity Crowd

HYLO. — Keehn's hall was nearly filled to capacity, although the roads were practically impassable with mud after Friday night's steady rain.

It was evident that the hilarious light comedy on that husband and wife life was enjoyed. The hall echoed with laughter. For a moment, too, everyone lived with Kit Madden in search of an actor for the leading role in "Here is Tomorrow."

Today's Canadian worker earns for each hour he runs a machine more than the worker of 80 years ago earned for a whole day's effort.

Federal Initiative Puts Province on the Spot In Farm Irrigation Project

By taking the intiative in rehabilitation of farmers in drought areas, the federal Liberal government has given Alberta's prosperity boom a considerable boost. It has also put the provincial Social Credit government in a spot where it will be forced to co-operate, according to opinions freely expressed in political circles.

Purchase of a 100,000-acre tract near Medicine Hat for an irrigation project to which farmers from the three prairie provinces may be moved from submarginal land will not only increase Alberta's population potential and provide relief for individual farmers plagued for years by drought but also should put provincial agriculture on a sounder basis.

Agriculture Minister James Gardiner in announcing the dominion has taken over assets of the Canada Land and Irrigation Company was not a responsibility of the dominion government to carry out irrigation projects. Yet all the money — or practically all — since the Social Credit Government took office had been spent by the federal government.

The dominion was co-operating because it was realized the costs were high and because it was felt there might be some general benefit to the people of Canada.

The provincial government owned 70,000 acres on which it was possible to put water. Ottawa was not going to sign every document Alberta called an agreement was was willing it sit down and discuss the matter. Mr. Gardiner, however, said that no agreement was presently before Ottawa.

In the provincial capital it was learned that the Alberta government was ready to discuss the matter but that no definite date had yet been set for conversations.

For some years the individual governments of the three prairie provinces have been making efforts to move farmers from submarginal lands. Such moves, of course, were normally within the province.

According to Mr. Gardiner's announcement, farmers from Saskatchewan and Manitoba would also be moved to Alberta.

"The reason for the purchase," said Mr. Gardiner in the House of Commons," is to enable the dominion to carry out a more active program in resettlement under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act. The intention is to move farmers from those lands in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba where crop production is unsatisfactory due to continued drought conditions."

At present over 400 farmers are operating with the Canada Land and Irrigation Company at Vauxhill, Alta.

"The dominion will arrange for the operation of the irrigation works. In addition, the dominion will immediately develop other irrigable lands for resettlement of farmers," said the Minister of Agriculture.

Probably the extent of such additional irrigation projects would depend on the nature of the agreement with the provincial government.

SCRIPTURAL MEDITATIONS

By Ainsley Blair

"In the matchless gift of His Son God has encircled the whole world with an atmosphere of grace as real as air which circulates around the globe. All who choose to breathe this life-giving atmosphere will live and grow up to the stature of men and women in Christ Jesus.

"As the flower turns to the sun, that the bright beams may aid in perfecting its beauty and symmetry so should we turn to the Sun of Righteousness, that heaven's light may shine upon us, that our character may be developed into the likeness of Christ.

"Jesus teaches the same thing when He says, 'Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in Me. Without Me ye can do nothing.' John 15.4,5. You are just as dependent upon Christ, in order to live a holy life, as is the branch upon the parent stock for growth and fruitfulness. Apart from Him you have no life. You have no power to resist temptation or to grow in grace and holiness. Abiding in Him, you may flourish. Drawing your life from Him, you will not wither nor be fruitless. You will be like a tree planted by the rivers of water." STEPS TO CHRIST.

Murderer Can't Be Two Places At Once

Seventh Installment of "The Strangest Murder Case on Record"

Evidence was introduced by the Crown to establish that Paris was actually in St. John a day before he was alleged to have committed murder.

DEFINITELY IDENTIFY PARIS

Mrs. Ella Calvin said that a mulatto molested her little girl in Riverside Park on Aug. 1. Both she and her 12-year-old daughter Alice definitely identified Paris.

In the face of this evidence, Defence Attorney G. H. Vernon of Amhurst, N.S., presented witness- to establish that Paris was in Truro on Aug. 2 and 3. Paris took the stand and told of his movements in Truro on those days. He mentioned many persons he saw. From the first trial onwards more and more of those Paris mentioned he had seen came into court to establish his story.

PARIS IN TRURO?

Mr. Vernon said he was going to prove that Paris was playing cards with inhabitants of the "Island," the negro section of Truro, on the night of Aug. 3. Paris had been tried in Truro for stealing gasoline and evidence in that trial showed he had sold the stolen gas to a garage on Aug. 2.

Chief of Police Fraser saw Paris on Aug. 2, and talked to him. Paris went to a store and bought two cans of sardines on credit and this was entered on the storekeeper's book as Aug. 2. Mr. Vernon pointed out that all the Crown's evidence was recollection, while his own evidence was recorded.

This contention of Mr. Vernon's was well sustained. A striking part of his case was that he had "documentary" evidence to show that Paris was in Truro on the dates in question. Evidence in the gasoline theft trial placed him in Truro on the 2nd, the garage had a record of the stolen gasoline bought on that date; a doctor who visited a sick person at the Island saw Paris at the home on Aug. 2; a bookkeeper produced his case book at a hat and cap factory with record of a receipt issued to Paris on Aug. 2.

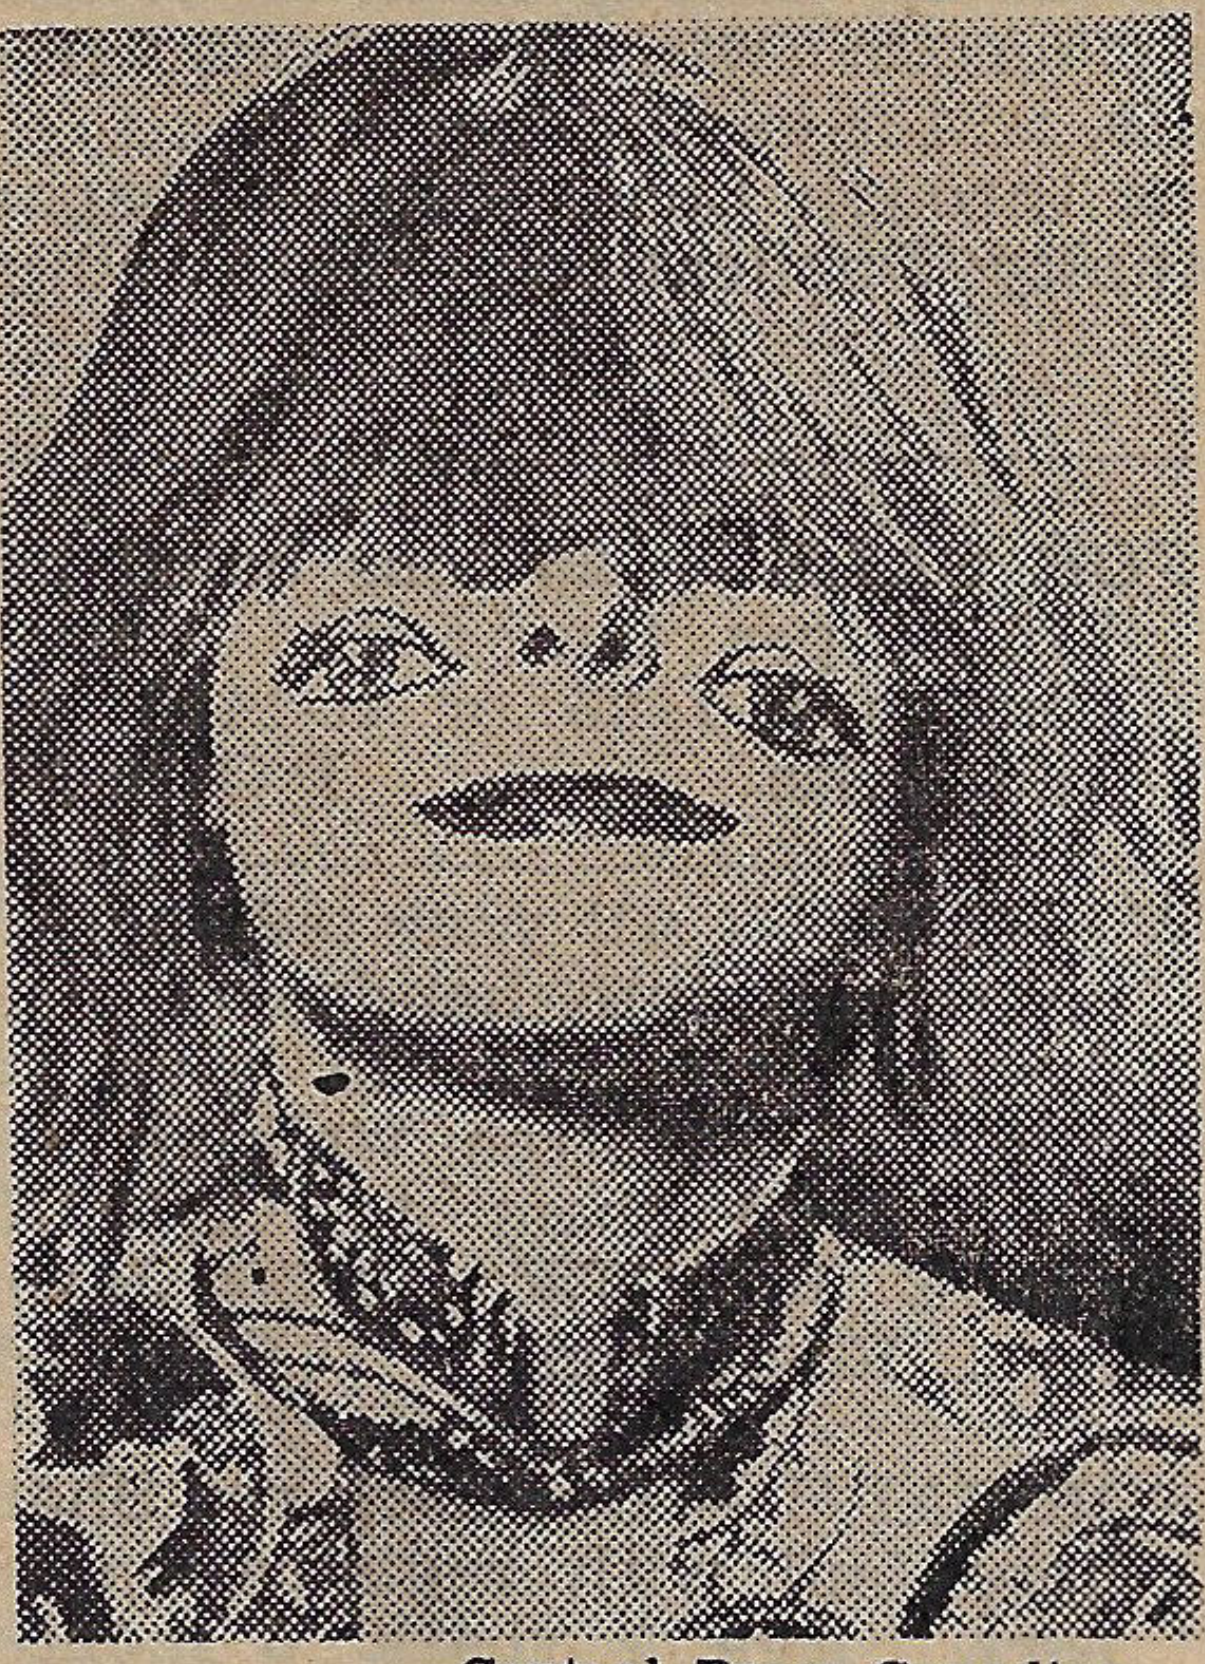
YOUR FRIENDS WON'T WISH TO RECOGNIZE YOU



—Central Press Canadian

If you want to look your worst for Hallowe'en, here is an example of what can be done to frighten even Dracula. First you cram a wig on backwards, so the hair falls over the face. Then trim the locks just under the eyes, giving a sheep-dog effect. Don't worry about being able to see as you can peer through the bangs. Then draw eyes, complete with lashes, on your cheeks with an eyebrow pencil. Use nail whiting for the whites. Or, if you're not so good at drawing, cut eyes from a magazine and paste them on, and border these with eyebrow pencil lines. Lipstick the lower lip in a broader and fuller pattern than usual. But make the rouging of the upper lip thin to the point of near invisibility.

Vitaminized Label

When buying apple juice, housewives should look for the label "vitaminized", which means the apple juice has been fortified with vitamin. This is the vitamin commonly found in oranges and grapefruit. For variety, then, you can serve "vitaminized" apple juice instead of orange juice for breakfast.

Change in London Bobby's Uniform

WASHINGTON, D.C.. — Visitors to England may be having their first look at the London "bobby" as he is today. The Home Secretary's office has ordered the banishment of the old high-collar jackets from new uniforms of police sergeants and constables, in favor of the open lapel style with blue shirts and black ties.

It doesn't follow, however, that England's policemen have thrown all tradition to the winds. Custom fanciers will be relieved to find that major features of the old model remain, with the familiar tall helmet, flowing cape, and woolly gloves.

In nearly a century and a quarter since the London police force was first organized over furious protests of citizens who feared its military use, uniforms have changed considerably, notes the National Geographic Society. In 1893, a chief inspector was properly dressed, and no lightweight, in "a swallow-tail coat, a rabbit-skin high top hat, covered with leather weighing 18 ounces, a pair of Wellington boots, and a belt four inches wide with a six-inch brass buckle."

CARRY NO ARMS

From the beginning, London's policemen were called "bobbies," or "peelers" (though the latter term didnt last), from the name of Sir Robert Peel, who was responsible for the Metropolitan Police Act of 1829. Sir Robert had earlier organized the Irish constabulary, nicknamed "peelres."

Extremists at first referred to the London force as "Peel's Bloody Gang," and insisted that thousands of cutlasses had been removed from the Tower to arm its members. Actually, London's pioneer policemen were equipped with only a stick or baton, and a rattle, which later was exchanged for a whistle. The metropolitan police force still carries no firearms.

Police uniforms of Germany, on the other hand, have long stressed military design. An imposing waxwork parade in a Berlin museum before the war illustrated changing fashions for capital officers from the 17th century. Dressed in plumed hats, gold epaulets and braid, with high boots and swords, some of these figures suggested admirals and field marshals at a ball.

WORLD OF DIFFERENCE

Around the world today, small boys who want to grow up to be policemen may have as local model a man in a fez, or a turban, in a cloth helmet to ward off tropical sun, or a steel helmet for more militant lands. He may ride a mule, a horse, a Mongolian pony, a camel—or an armored car.

The Arab patrolmen of Mid-East deserts are resplendent in scarlet cloaks lined with white sheepskin, with flowing head cloth and gleaming cartridge belt. Khaki shorts and bold-striped turbans are the badge of the bearded, fierce-looking Indian Sikhs, for whom Great Britain found many police duties around the Empire.

The barefoot Fiji and other South Sea island police are dressed for action in short wrap-around skirts, and a high fuzzy hairdo. A shiny sword and white spats are distinguishing marks of a Brazilian force at show places in Sao Paulo, as the red coat and broad-brimmed hats proclaim the Canadian Mounties.

Ethiopian police wear a conventional military-type uniform—and no shoes. In the highlands of Bolivia, traffic cops are formidable in stiff, military helmets copied from those of prewar Germany.

Canada's Money Supply Shows

Canadian money supply at the end of July, 1949, was $4,173 million as compared with $4,002 mil--lion at the end of July, 1948. The 1949 figures include statistics of the Newfoundland branches of chartered banks.

There has been little change in the money supply since 1946, auguring well for price stability. Business activity continues to increase. Gold, nickel, steel, newsprint, and electric power output show increases over the three previous years.

For the twelve months ending July, 1949, residential construction contracts awarded reached a new high figure of $411 million.

The employment index for the eight leading industries is at a new high of 128.7. (Unadjusted, June 1, 1941 = 100). The The aggregate payroll index for the same industries is now a staggering 210.7 (Unadjusted, June 1, 1941 = 100). The index of total Canadian industrial production in terms of physical volume has risen to 185.9 (1935-39 = 100).

The value of total retail merchandise trade has risen to a new twelve months' high for the period ending June, 1949, of $7,521 million. The index of the cost of living as of August 1 had risen to a new high of 162.8, largely the result of increased food prices.

Canada's total merchandise (excluding gold) for the twelve months' period ending July, 1949, was $3,119 million, as compared to $2,379 million, $2,796 million, and $3,124 million for the calendar years 1946, 1947 and 1948, respectively.

Canada's total merchandise imports (excluding gold) amounted to $2,776 million for the twelve months ending June, 1949, as compared to $1,864 million, $2,570 million, and $2,636 million for the calendar years 1946, 1947, and 1948 respectively.

The total picture is one of increasing production, increasing employment, and sound operation.

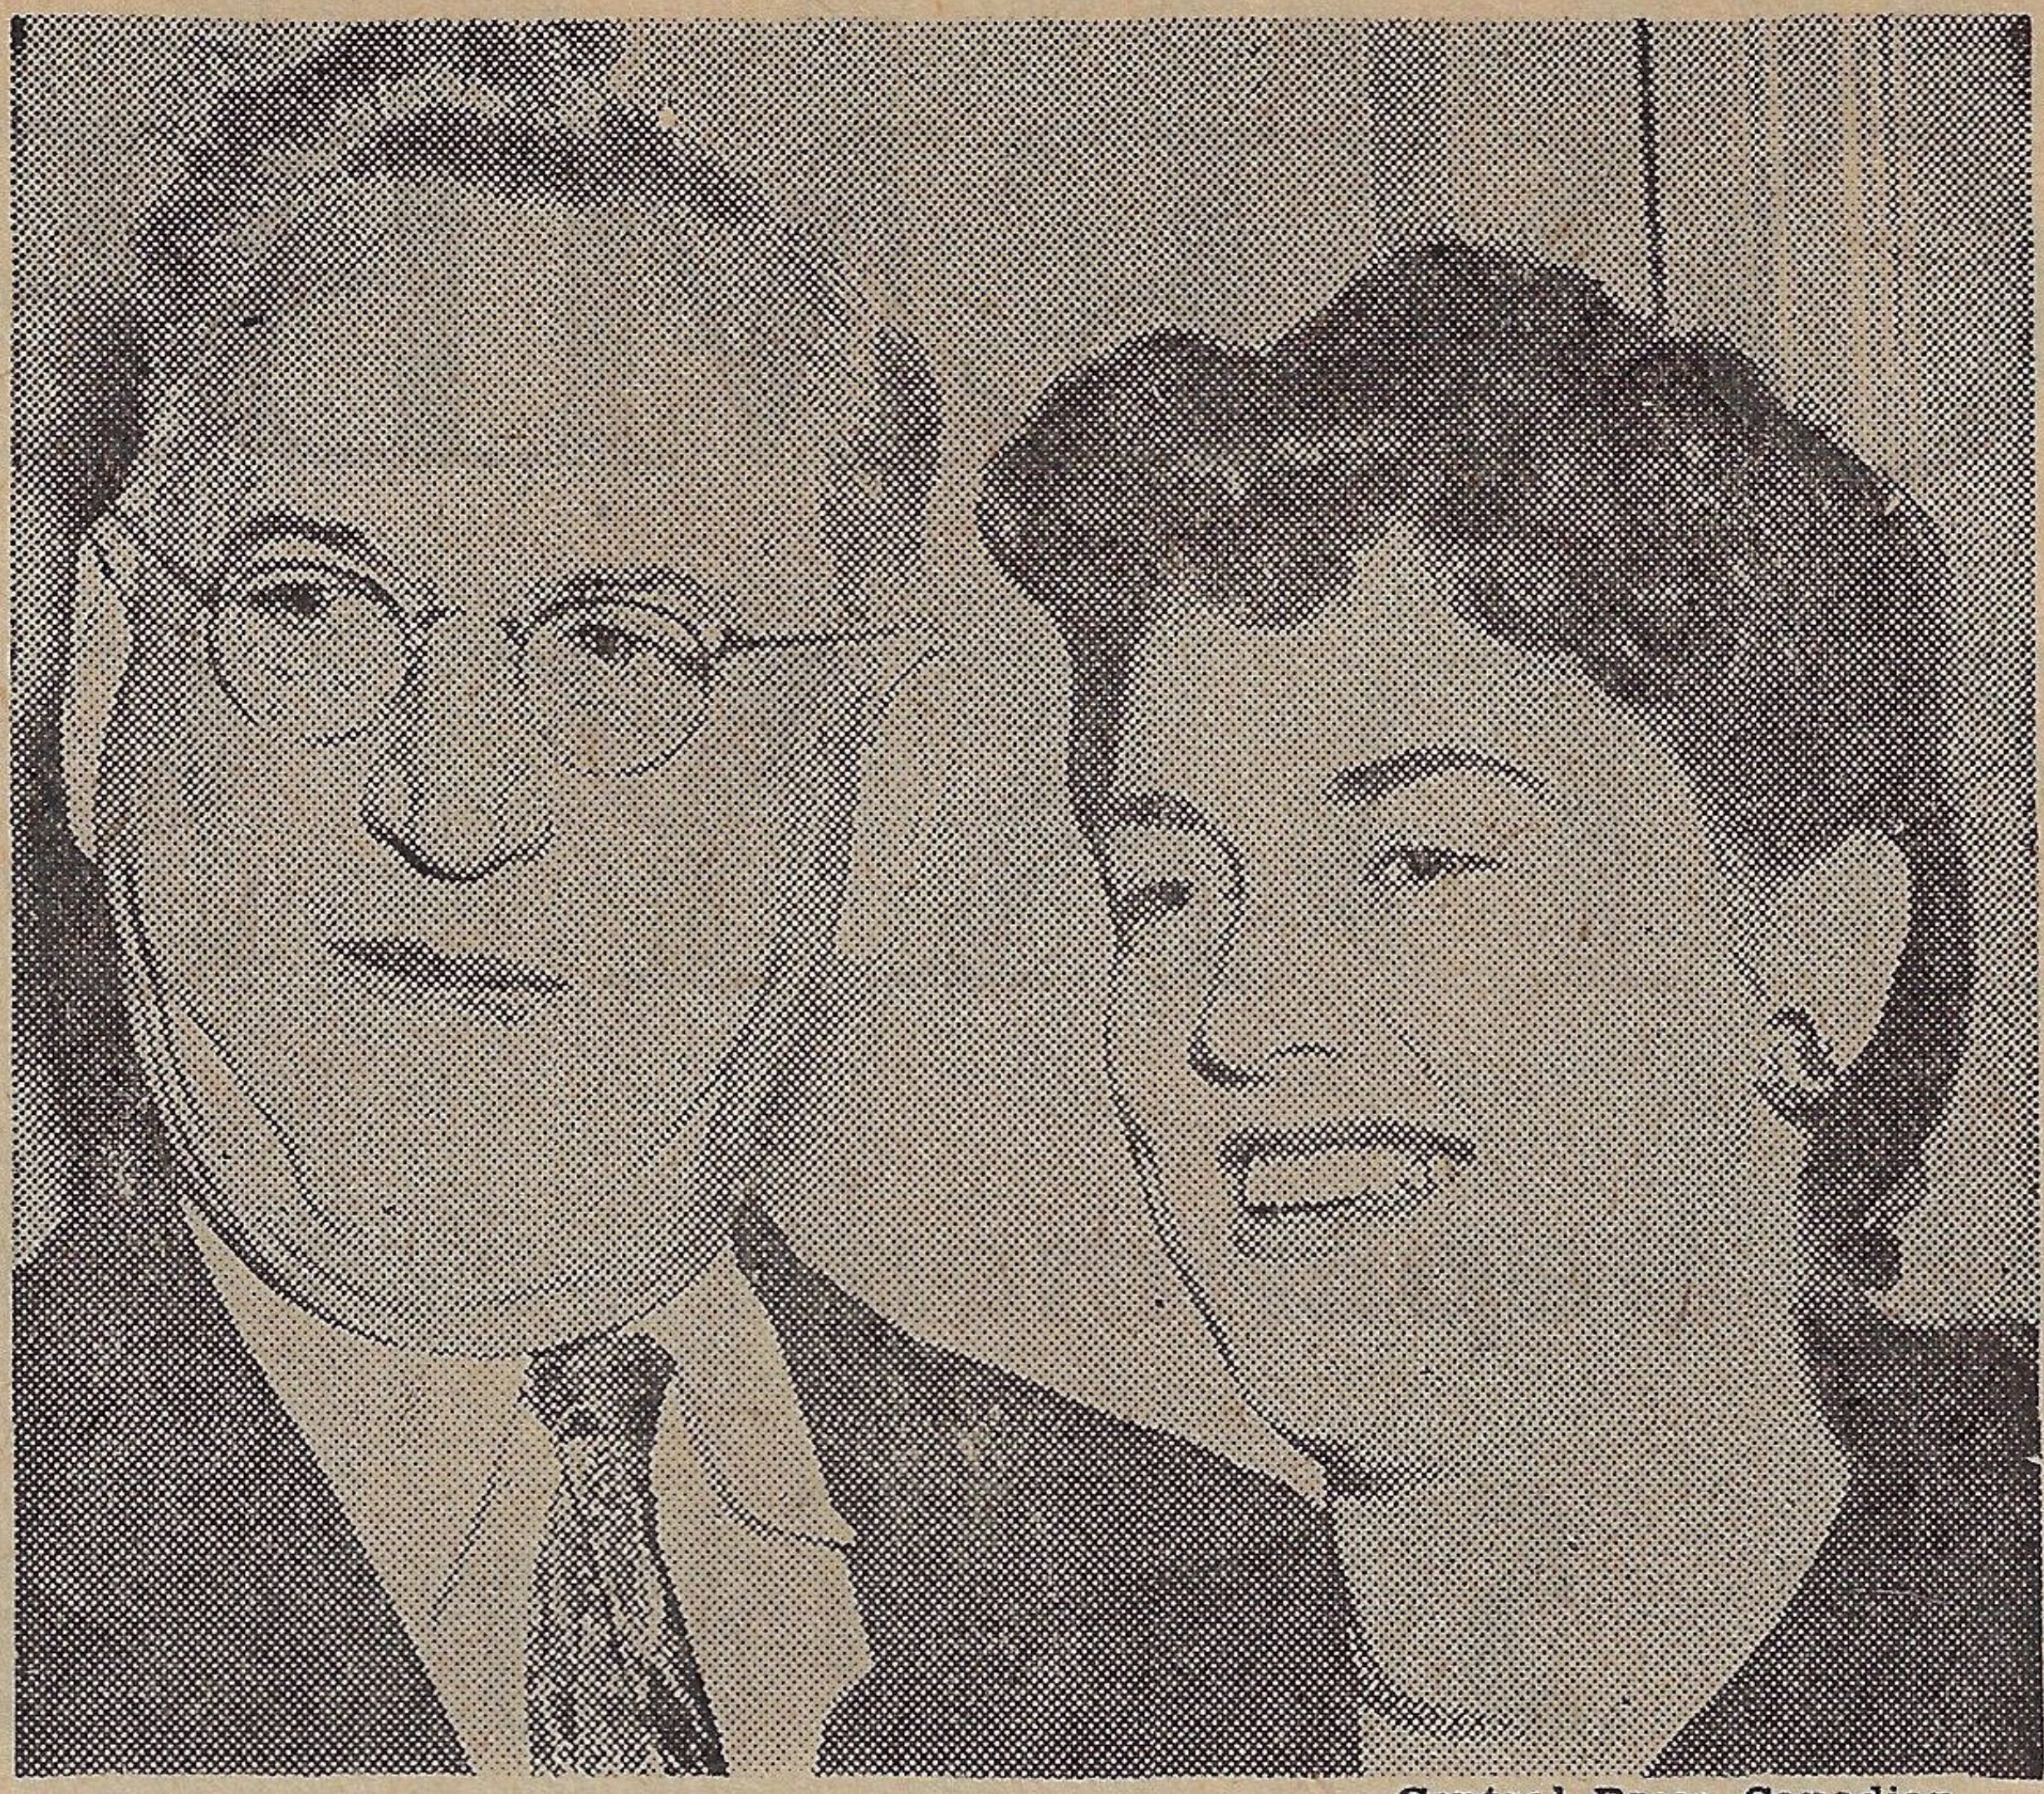
MISS ROONEY CAUSES NEAR RIOT



—Central Press Canadian

Patricia Rooney, United Electrical Workers delegate to the Canadian Congress of Labor convention in Ottawa, is shown with Congress President A. R. Mosher, from whom she attempted to wrest a microphone at the current Ottawa convention. Miss Rooney, insisting on holding the floor and unable to speak above the roar of the delegates, defied the president and walked to the speakers' platform to address the convention over the loudspeaker system. The system was disconnected when she spoke into the mike and Miss Rooney left the stand in tears after starting a near-riot in the meeting.

Handsomest Goose Extinction Threat

Ross's Goose, the smallest and one of the handsomest of Canada's wild geese, may be threatened with extinction.

This disturbing news is contained in the report of British, American and Canadian scientists, who have just returned from an expedition to the remote Perry River district in the Canadian Arctic.

It is less than ten years since the breeding grounds of Ross's Goose, formerly an unsolved mystery, were discovered in this area by officials of the Hudson's Bay Company.

At one time Ross's Geese were abundant, and were popular among hunters because of their excellent table quality. It has been known for many years that the species had been seriously reduced in numbers, and a year-round close season has been in force in both Canada and the United States.

In spite of this special protection, however, the scientists who studied the birds on their breeding grounds this summer have estimated that in July, 1949, fewer than 2,000 individual Ross's Geese remained alive. As these have to face the hazards of a long migration from the Arctic to California in the fall, and a similar return journey before the breeding season next summer, the situation regarding their survival is critical.

The Perry River expedition brought back nine live geese for breeding in capacity, in the hope of helping to save the species. These geese were examined by fluoroscope, and three of them were found to be carrying lead shot in their bodies. This proves that careless and illegal hunting still constitutes a grave danger to the few surviving Ross's Geese.

As the migration route of these birds passes through Alberta, all waterfowl hunters in this province should be particularly careful to avoid killing or wounding any Ross's Geese, which are strictly protected under the Migratory Bird Regulations.

In the field, Ross's Goose may be identified as a very small snow-white goose (about the size of a mallard) with black wing-tips. It has a reddish bill, with warty protuberances near the base, on account of which it is sometimes called "Scabby-nosed Goose." It is sometimes mistaken for a young Snow Goose, but the Snow Goose has a smooth, reddish bill, with wide black bands along the cutting edges forming a "grinning patch." Ross's Goose does not have a grinning patch.

Only continuance of strict government protection, combined with the co-operation of waterfowl hunters and of all citizens interested in wild life, can save this beautiful and interesting wild bird from extinction.

Must Rely More On Home Market

Canada must be prepared to rely more on domestic support for farm prices, Canadian packing houses are warning. For this reason, a price decline in agricultural products must be anticipated.

All over the world, hunger and high prices led to a vost increase in food production. In Europe, for two years following VE Day, a condition of semi-starvation existed, but great quantities of food were shipped from the U.S.A. and Canada.

Now this situation was changed. While Europe was still short of meats and dairy products, most countries did not have dollars to buy them, and were now able to maintain a fairly adequate standard of nutrition without them.

In 1950, U.S.A. and Canada would determine agricultural prices by conditions of supply and demand in their domestic markets.

On the supply side, live stock production seemed likely to increase. Growing problems of finding buyers abroad for surplus grain would force farmers to market through the medium of live stock.

As for demand, purchasing power was still high, but some diminuition had already set in.
